

MANAGERIAL FORM CAMPAIGN DRIFTS WITHOUT LEADER

NOBODY WANTS TO SPONSOR MOVEMENT FOR A CHANGE IN CITY'S GOVERNMENT-
TAL SYSTEM.

DON'T UNDERSTAND LAW

Attorneys Are Divided in Their Opinions—Heinemann Is Opposed
While Benton Sees Good Points—People Need
Education.

An election that goes right to the core of Appleton's existence takes place next Tuesday, when the question of adopting the managerial form of government will be voted on. Stand on the street corners or hang around the popular gathering places and listen for the usual day-in-day-out discussion of the political issues, and you will listen in vain. You can't tell that a vitally important election is in prospect.

"Is the campaign making any progress?" is the question asked. You cannot find a citizen who can size up the situation and give you even enough of a tip for a wild bet. Nobody knows what is doing, it seems, and the common opinion is that it is going by default for want of a champion.

Tracing the matter to its source, it appears that Dr. J. R. Scott gave the campaign a good start by securing enough signatures to a recall petition to have an election called. Whether he left it in other hands expecting that the campaign would be taken care of, or whether he changed his mind about it has not been determined, but he took a winter vacation in California just as the movement swung forth and began to be noticeable. Now nobody sponsors it, and nobody seems to want to. Views on the subject are plentiful and several fraternal and social organizations have had the poor victim on trial and given it a thorough airing. To their minds, the issue is quite clear and they will perhaps be able to cast an intelligent vote.

Evidently the commission manager system of city government has its good points and its bad ones, just as is claimed for the aldermanic system. Because of the frequent calls for enlightenment on the law and the nature of the proposed new government, F. V. Heinemann, district attorney, took the time to study the law, quite thoroughly and prepared a very comprehensive brief on the subject.

The law very carefully defines the procedure for inaugurating the managerial form of government. Mr. Heinemann pointed out, but seems to give too much power to the manager and too little to the council which hires him. As soon as the council is elected, the old organization is done away with, as he understands the law, and until the manager is hired and the new minor officers engaged, the city is without any governing body except the council, whose powers are held to be purely legislative and not executive. It is for any length of time to find the manager who will fulfill all the qualifications defined in the law, the city is liable to drift for the time being. He also stated that the president of the council has no veto power, and that there seems practically no way to stop the manager from doing anything he contemplates in the management of the city.

Any councilman may be recalled, Mr. Heinemann further remarked, but the manager must be given sixty days notice in case the council desires his removal, and until his successor is appointed. This, he warned, would mean that if a dishonest man were in office, he could do considerable damage before finally removed. Where the law stipulates that the action of the council in removing the manager is final, the right of appeal or taken away, a right that every public officer may demand. As the law now reads, it is not an easy task to rid the city of this form of government, the district attorney further averred. It names the procedure for the change, but does not stipulate how the manager will be administered until another governing body takes its place. He also holds that the choice of councilmen stipulated by the petition takes away the principle of representative government, in that six men elected from the city at large may all be chosen from one ward, whereas now they are chosen from six wards, and the council contains men from all walks of life.

"I am opposed to anything that takes away the fundamental idea of our national and state governments, representation of the majority. If the law could be changed so that the council would have an opportunity to check up on all the work of the city manager, I would feel more like considering it," Mr. Heinemann concluded.

Attorney H. H. Benton, who has given careful study to the law, has figured out that the powers of the city manager are limited to purely administrative functions and that anything of any moment at all lies with the council to pass upon either by enacting an ordinance or passing a resolution. The ability of the council to discharge a manager who is incompetent, he states, protects the city in the matter of misgovernment. A feature that stands out is the fact that the administration of the city's affairs can be expedited to a surprising degree through clothing the manager with the authority to act for himself.

"There seems to be a lot of opposition to the move," Mr. Benton stated.

RESERVATIONS TO TREATY WANTED BY NEW YORK C. O. P.

Democratic Government is Played

tiations—Plumb Control of Rail Control is Denounced

By United Press Leased Wire
New York.—Immediate ratification of the peace treaty with distinct reservations to protect American interests is recommended in the state republican platform adopted today by the delegates to the New York official republican convention.

The platform was drafted by a committee headed by Nicholas Murray Butler. It was regarded in many quarters as possibly forecasting the attitude of New York republicans toward the national republican platform that would be adopted at the Chicago convention.

The document also contains planks urging the elimination of bolshevism, ratification of the woman suffrage amendment, repeal of business control laws to reduce the cost of living, a national budget system, a protective tariff, establishment of industrial commissions to handle labor disputes, an enlarged and privately owned merchant marine, universal military training, and stricter immigration laws.

It opposes government ownership of railroads and the Plumb plan, charges that the federal trade commission has "prostituted its proper functions" and attacks the democratic national administration's conduct of the war and the peace negotiations.

Four delegates at large to the national convention, and their alternates were named to be voted on at the primaries. The state organization slate for these posts was accepted.

The plank favoring immediate ratification of the peace treaty declared that distinct reservations and declarations should accompany it, "as make it clear to all the world that the United States retains its unconditional rights to withdraw from the league of nations on proper notice; that the United States assumes no obligation either legal or moral to send American soldiers or sailors for service abroad unless the congress shall so authorize and direct; that the Monroe doctrine is protected both in letter and in spirit; that no foreign power or council of foreign powers shall have any control whatsoever over the domestic policies of the United States; and that the government and the people of the United States shall not be drawn by the operation of part XIII of the treaty, the so-called labor clauses, into the net spread by international socialism."

Upon the ratification of the treaty, the platform urges the institution of an international high court of justice to decide disputes between nations and an international conference to revise the rules of international law and conduct.

Declaring the chief enemy of democracy is no longer arbitrary monarchial government "but the cruel and relentless domination of a class bent upon exploiting all who are not of their own kind and group" the platform urges vigorous measures to "prevent by education the spread of doctrines of this dangerous and undemocratic government. The plank is headed, "bolshevism vs. democracy."

With regard to the high cost of living, the platform declares industry is hampered and the cost of living advanced "as the effect of emergency war time legislation." It declares "espionage over private industry and the country's business should be at once abolished." It adds that "a form of control that is bearable in war becomes tyranny in peace."

SENATE COMMERCE COMMITTEE
APPROVES BILL STOPPING
SALE UNTIL POLICY
IS FORMED

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington.—The senate commerce committee today ordered a favorable report on the Jones bill to prevent the sale of former German ships by the shipping board, until congress has authorized it.

The committee vote was nine to three. Senators Edge, New Jersey; Nelson, Minnesota and Fernald, Maine, republicans opposing.

Jones said he expected to call the measures up in the senate in a few days. The bill provides the shipping board should not dispose of the vessels until congress establishes a definite merchant marine policy. Meanwhile the board shall reconduct these craft, using available funds and continue their operations.

The president gave direct approval to the shipping board policy of selling 29 ex-German liners. Chairman Payne told the house merchant marine and fisheries committee today.

"The president wrote across a memorandum of the board recommending the sale of the vessels' action of the board," Payne said.

LABOR WILL HELP DEMOCRATS FIGHT THE RAILROAD BILL

ORGANIZED LABOR JOINS IN EFFORT TO DEFEAT ESCH-CUMMINS BILL IN LOWER HOUSE

SITUATION IS SERIOUS

Strikes are Not Mentioned but Labor Leaders Emphasize the Gravity of the Situation—Write Letter to Wilson

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington.—A concerted action on the guaranty section of the railroad bill appeared today as the main obstacle that proponents of the measure must overcome, if it is to be passed by congress before the return of the lines to their owners on March 1 by presidential proclamation.

Organized labor is backing up the stand of the majority of the house democrats that the guaranty provisions mean higher rates and give undue advantages to the railroad owners. The part of the bill under fire is the section ordering the federal state commerce commission to adjust rates so that the roads may be guaranteed a return of 5 1/2 per cent on their aggregate property.

Labor and the railroad brotherhoods, according to a memorial submitted to congress today appears to be more opposed to this provision than the plan in the bill for arbitration of labor disputes, although several details of this system are attacked.

Railroad union leaders today were in session, framing their communication to President Wilson. The communication is planned as a protest against presidential approval of the railroad bill, in case it passes.

Leaders today referred to the situation as the most serious in weeks. But they carefully avoided mention of strikes.

It was regarded as possible that passage of the bill may upset entirely the semi-agreement for settlement of wage demands reached between representatives of the unions and leaders.

This will be determined Monday when general chairmen of all the roads unions meet here in special session. The general chairmen are closer to the rank and file of the workers than the international officers who have been conducting the negotiations with Rail Director Hines and the president.

Some leaders declare passage of the bill would prevent executives of all the roads from meeting with representatives of the unions and taking up the demands of the men. This was the proposal made to President Wilson in the last communication sent him by the rail union heads.

It is expected that the general chairmen will go on record decidedly against wage negotiations through the labor board set up by the rail bill. Many leaders, however, profess confidence that President Wilson will find a way to reconcile the difficulties of the situation.

PRESIDENT ENDS NOTE WRITING IN ADRIATIC MATTERS

WILSON'S LATEST NOTE TO AL-LIES IS CONSIDERED FIN-AL—FORMULATED
NEW PROPOSAL

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington.—President Wilson's latest note on the Adriatic settlement is regarded at the White House as his final word in subject, it was stated today. One official said, "he thought no further correspondence would be necessary."

Before the president's note is put on the cables a copy will be submitted by him to the state department for final approval.

Summaries of the Allies reply to Wilson's first note published in this country were declared not authentic by the White House and state department.

Formulation by the United States, Great Britain and France of a new proposal to Italy and Yugoslavia for settlement of the Adriatic controversy is likely to result from President Wilson's re-entrance into the negotiations, it was stated.

Faced with Wilson's reported intention that he might consider the withdrawal of the treaty of Versailles and the treaty of alliance between Great Britain and the United States for the defense of France, it is believed that Britain and France will exert themselves to cause Italy to make concessions to the Yugoslavians in line with the president's demand. Premier Nitti of Italy has declared that the January plan of the Allies was the least that his country would accept.

Wilson's reply to the answer of the supreme council to his protest had not been put on the cables for transmission today and was still in the hands of Acting Secretary of State Polk. It was believed that the president has asked Polk to consider the note before it is sent. Polk is thoroughly familiar with the Adriatic situation from his participation in the negotiations in Paris.

Of America's war force of more than four and a half million men, 1,200,000, it is estimated, came from farms.

Admiral Peary, Discoverer Of North Pole, Dies

Intrepid Explorer's Death Occurs
This Morning—Following an Operation—Famous Quarrel With Cook Over
Discovery of Pole

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington.—Rear Admiral Robert E. Peary, discoverer of the north pole, died at 1:25 a. m. today. Death occurred at his home here where he was taken after a recent operation for pernicious anemia at the naval hospital here.

After an operation for blood transfusion the admiral showed a slight change for the better and was taken to his home where he appeared to be recovering. Yesterday Peary seemed quite strong, it was learned at his residence. A relapse was suffered during the night.

Peary's wife, son, son-in-law and daughter and a niece were at his home when he died.

Robert Edwin Peary, intrepid arctic explorer and discoverer of the north pole, although born in Pennsylvania and for years a resident of Washington he was claimed as a son of Maine.

The Roosevelt, the ship that carried the Polar party north through the frozen waters to the pole, was built in a Maine shipyard and Peary for many years lived during his summers on an island in Casco Bay, near Portland, Me. In fact he owned several islands in that neighborhood. Many members of Peary's crew were natives of Maine.

It was in 1886 that Peary, then but 30 years old, made his first trip north and caught the Arctic fever, a "malady" he was never able to cure. From that date to September 1909 was a continuous period of planning and effort to reach the top of the world.

His initial trip was for the purpose of making a reconnaissance of the Greenland ice cape.

It was on September 13, 1909 that Commander Peary cast the first shadow of suspicion over the claims of Dr. Frederick A. Cook, that he had discovered the north pole. "I have him nailed," he telegraphed Mrs. Peary who from the first had disbelieved Dr. Cook's story of finding the pole.

It was on September 6, 1909 that Peary's announcement that he had "nailed the stars and stripes to the pole" was received in America. That was five days after Dr. Cook had sent a telegram to Denmark declaring he had found the pole.

Born in Cresson, Pa., May 6, 1856 Peary got his early education at a North Bridgeton, Me., academy and later entered Bowdoin college from which he was graduated in 1877. He entered the United States navy in 1881 as a civil engineer.

In 1893 Peary went north to study the habits of the Eskimos. This voyage lasted until 1895. The fourth and fifth journeys were in reality summer trips to the north-land to enlarge the explorer's knowledge of the habits and customs of the people. In 1898 Peary took his sixth trip.

Peary's most serious attempt to reach the pole, with the exception of the trip on which he actually reached the coveted goal, was on his eighth journey, begun in July 1905. It was on this journey that he and his party traveling on the Roosevelt encountered so many obstacles and suffered such privations.

Peary reached "farthest north" on April 21, 1906, just three years to a day before the day Dr. Cook asserted as his date of alleged discovery of the pole. Peary's readings showed he was then at a latitude of 87 degrees and 17 minutes. Forced to leave most of his supplies behind to lighten the load on the dogsleds, Peary realized that if he attained his ambition and dashed for the pole, he and every man and dog in the party would die of starvation and exposure on the way back.

The final dash for the pole that at last proved successful was started on July 6, 1908. His date of discovery was given as April 6, 1909.

In recent years Commander Peary has lived in Washington. He was married in 1888 to Miss Josephine Diebitsch of Fryburg, Me. She accompanied him on several earlier arctic expeditions and it was in Greenland in 1893 that Marie, their eldest child, was born.

ATTORNEYS ARGUE THREE HOURS IN ANTIGO TRIAL

By United Press Leased Wire
Antigo, Wis.—The trial of John Mainville, on charges of attacking Mrs. Annie Lillie with intent to inflict great harm, was featured today by a three hour argument of opposing attorneys over admissibility of testimony. The defense sought to introduce testimony concerning actions of Mainville previous to his killing of Frank Parsons, of which he was acquitted and, at which time, the state charges he inflicted bullet wounds on Mrs. Lillie. The court admitted the testimony.

SENATE INTERESTED IN NEW YORK ACTION ON TREATY OF PEACE

REPUBLICANS OF EMPIRE STATE WILL ACT ON TREATY RAT-IFICATION AT STATE
MEETING

(By L. C. Martin)
By United Press Leased Wire
Washington.—Senators are watching the republican convention in New York today to see what stand it takes on the peace treaty.

Senatorial interest apparently is whetted by the growing feeling that the treaty is slated to be the central issue of the national campaign. The action of New York republicans is important because of the attention it will attract and the example it will set to the republicans of other states, senators said.

If the convention adopts a plank along the lines suggested by former Senator Root in his speech, ratification with the Lodge reservations, that action is very likely to blaze the trail for the republican national convention in Chicago in June in the opinion of many senators.

The treaty may come up in the senate again today if the pending deficiency appropriation bill is disposed of. Otherwise it must wait until Senator Lodge gets ready to bring it up.

IRISH OPINION NOT CHANGED BY NEW PLAN

SINN FEIN LEADERS DECLARE THAT THEY WILL CONTINUE THEIR FIGHT FOR INDEPENDENCE

By United Press Leased Wire
Dublin.—Sinn Fein leaders said today introduction of Premier Lloyd George's new plan for home rule in Ireland would make no difference in their attitude toward Irish relations to the British government.

The Sinn Fein will continue its fight for full Irish independence leaders said.

Introduction of the home rule plan is viewed with indifference in Ireland, they declared.

"The key to Anglo-Irish friendship is Irish independence," Arthur Griffith said in an interview. "Once that independence is acknowledged the reason for Ireland's hostility toward Great Britain will disappear and Ireland's interests will be to live peacefully with the neighboring island."

Sinn Fein leaders were cautious in comment on the so-called "Monroe doctrine" interview of President De Valera who is now in the United States. They wished to get additional details from De Valera on his statement that Ireland was willing to guarantee Great Britain the same relationship Cuba bears to the United States—that is that a free Ireland would not allow the island to be used as a base for attack upon Britain by any hostile power—they said, before forming an opinion.

Regardless of any changes in the attitude of De Valera toward Great Britain, their position will remain the same, they said.

PROFITTEERING IN SUGAR IS CHARGED

PRODUCE EVIDENCE TO PROVE THAT SUGAR MANUFACTUR-ERS ARE MAKING TOO
MUCH PROFIT

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington.—Evidence indicative of profiteering in sugar was to be laid today before representatives of the four million farmers assembled here to plan a fight against rising prices, according to C. G. Patterson of Salt Lake City, president of the beet growers' association, who prepared the evidence.

"Farmers receive $12 for one ton of sugar beets," said Patterson. "One ton of beets produces about 500 pounds of sugar which now brings the retail dealer about $51. Who gets the surplus $39?"

After leaving the farmer the beets go to the refiner who takes a profit and passes the sugar along to the wholesaler and the retail dealer.

"The refiner gets many by-products which sell for enough to pay the cost of refining," said Patterson.

Patterson's complaint was to be laid before a committee of the farmers' representatives who were called here in special meeting by the national board of farm organizations, to discuss means of reducing living costs.

Employees of Big Paper Company Will Have Voice in Shaping Company's Policies in Matters Relating to Working Conditions—One of First Paper Mills in Country to Adopt This Plan

By majorities ranging from three to ten to one, employees of seven mills of the Kimberly-Clark Paper company on Wednesday voted to adopt the mill council plan proposed by the company and approved at a meeting of workers' representatives and representatives of the management at Neeah Wednesday, Feb. 11. The council is modeled after the plan which is giving excellent satisfaction in the 19 plants of the International Harvester company. Its aim is to establish relations between employees and the management upon a definite and durable basis of understanding and confidence and the mutual consideration of all questions of policy relating to working conditions, health, housing, safety, hours of labor, wages, recreation, education and all other similar matters of mutual interest.

Separate councils will be formed in every mill with an equal number of representatives of the workers and of the management. No superintendent, foreman or any other person with the privilege of hiring or discharging men will be eligible to vote or to election of the council as a representative of the workers.

Nominations for election as employees' representatives will be held in all the mills next Saturday. Elections to the council will be held next week, probably on Wednesday. All elections and nominations shall be by secret ballot and two persons shall be nominated for each position in each mill.

The plan provides that the mill councils shall be concerned solely with shaping the policies of the company relating to the matters of mutual interest enumerated above and the execution of those policies shall remain with the company. The councils, however, may consider the manner of execution if they desire. Members of the council will be paid by the company for all time actually and necessarily spent in transaction of council business. Even hotel bills and transportation of representatives when attending meetings of the general council will be borne by the company, unless employees elect to pay their own bills.

The plan also provides that in case the council fails to agree the matter shall be referred to the president of the Kimberly-Clark company who may confer with the mill council or its sub-committees and propose a settlement of the controversy or he may refer the matter directly to the general council. If the president's solution is not satisfactory to the mill council it may also be referred to the general council.

This general council consists of representatives from each of the mills held to be jointly interested in the matter under consideration and an equal number of representatives appointed by the management. The procedure in the general council sessions is to be the same as in the mill councils.

If the general council fails to reach an agreement it is provided that the entire matter shall be submitted to arbitration. One arbitrator is to be appointed by the employees and the other by the management. If they agree their decision is final but if they do not agree then they shall select a third man whose decision shall end the controversy. The arbitrators will be given all available information and necessary expenses of arbitration will be borne by the company. Expenses of reports of council proceedings shall also be borne by the company, the plan provides.

The mill council plan has been adopted by a few of the largest corporations in the United States and in every instance has resulted in closer and more amiable relations between employers and employees. The Kimberly-Clark company is one of the first paper companies, if not the very first, in the United States to adopt the plan. Both employees and the management are confident that it will result in better understanding of each other. The plan may be abandoned at any time after six months notice by a majority vote of the employees or by the board of directors of the company.

Councils will be formed in the various cities or mills in proportion to the number of employees in each. A council of ten members is to be established in Neeah, consisting of five employees and five representatives of the management. Two of the five elected members will come from the Badger mill; one from the Globe and two from the Neeah mill. A council of the same size is to be formed in Appleton. Three of the elected members will represent the Teuliah mill and two from the Atlas mill and the Vulcan Power House.

The Kimberly mill will have nine elected representatives and nine from the management. Employees' representatives will be elected as follows: Paper mill, (including wrapping mill) three; sulphite mill, (including wood room and bleaching department) two; Kimberly plant, including the wood yard, loaders, watchmen, paper loaders, village and painters, one; steam and electric workers, one; ground wood and statistical department, one; bleach plant, warehouse and construction, one.

The Nigara mill will have a council of seven elected workers and seven men representing the company. Four voting divisions have been established in that mill.

At the first meeting of each mill council the employees representatives shall be divided by lot into two classes, one with a term expiring August 15, 1920 and the other terms expiring Feb. 15, 1921. Thereafter all terms shall be for one year but half of each council will be re-elected every six months. The plan provides for the retirement of a certain number from each voting division August 15, 1920. Elections are to

Washington, D. C.—For the first time in 35 years the American Roman Catholic archbishops and bishops are issuing a pastoral letter to their clergy and laity. The letter will be read in every Catholic church in the United States Sunday, Feb. 22. It was prepared by Cardinals Gibbons and O'Connell and Rector J. Sheehan of the Catholic university. Cardinal Gibbons is the sole survivor of the seventy-six bishops who signed the joint pastoral letter issued after the third plenary council in Baltimore held in 1884.

Bishops and pastors are urging the Catholic people in every parish to go to communion the day of the pastoral letter is read to pray for the intentions of the pope and the bishops, and for the welfare of church and country.

The pastoral letter insists that world reconstruction shall proceed on sound principles and not along lines of expediency. It emphasizes the need of justice and charity and their application to the practical solution of the pressing problems of marriage and divorce, industrial relations, national affairs, international relations, education and the power of Christianity as an absolute necessity for human welfare.

JUROR BREAKS UNWRITTEN LAW; GOES TO HOSPITAL

Vacancy is Created in Bishbee Kidnapping Jury When Ranchman Takes Law Into Own Hands

(By M. D. Tracy) By United Press Leased Wire Tombstone, Ariz.—The unwritten law of the cattle country has taken a salesman from the jury box in the Bishbee deportation trials.

Because J. F. Seals, cattle man, claimed B. K. Lewis, one of the first men pressed for jury duty, violated the unwritten law against leaving gates open on cattle ranges, Lewis was in a hospital at Douglas today suffering from three bullet wounds. Seals is under arrest here charged with assault with a deadly weapon.

Seals was waiting for Deputy Sheriff Rafferty when he drove thirty miles into the McNeal district to make the arrest.

Lewis left gates open on the McNeal ranch and when taken to task, Seals claimed, made a motion toward his hip pocket as if to draw a gun.

"I drew my gun," Seals said. He claimed Lewis then violated another unwritten law of the cattle country by running instead of fighting. Seals admitted, deputy sheriffs stated, shooting Lewis.

The deportation trial was to be resumed late today with the new venire in court. Both sides hope to procure a jury this week.

John Mentink, Sheboygan county, was elected president of the organization. Frank Riley, Juneau was elected secretary-treasurer.

While this meeting was being held the regular Equity meeting of the Dane county Equity union was also being held at the court house and President J. N. Tittmore was denouncing the group which was opposing him as secessionists.

"There is in this city today a secessionist meeting," declared Mr. Tittmore. "Secession is a nasty word to deal with; it means conspiracy and conspiracy is criminal. There is no such thing as a good secessionist and there never was."

The resolutions adopted at the Anti-Tittmore conference charge that President Tittmore is attempting to put the society into politics. Others whose resignations are asked for are: James Clemons, Racine, a member of the National Board; J. Alex Reyburn, vice president of the Wisconsin Union; Paul Schweinberg, Harry Hanthorn, George D. Van Antwerp and J. Fred Larson, all officials of either the state or National Equity Society.

STORY OF MERGER CALLED PIPE DREAM

FOND DU LAC TRACTION COMPANY OFFICIALS ASSERT NO TRUTH TO MERGER REPORTS

Fond du Lac.—Emphatic denial of interurban merger and characterization of the Sheboygan story as "pure bunk" and "ravings of an imaginative reporter" is made by the Eastern Wisconsin Electric company and other interests.

According to local representatives of the Eastern Wisconsin Electric company the visit of the Chicago business men had no significance so far as any propositions for interurban extensions are concerned.

Manager E. W. Arnold of the Eastern Wisconsin company stated that the men who visited Sheboygan, Oshkosh and this city are persons who handle the financial interests of the company and that their purpose was simply to make a general physical survey of the properties in the various localities.

J. P. Pulliam, former manager of the Eastern Wisconsin Electric company and a resident of this city, now located at Milwaukee as vice president of the Wisconsin Public Service company, characterized the Sheboygan story as a day dream having tints and shades of varying interesting degrees.

Mr. Pulliam in brief said that if a merger proposition is pending, his company which controls interests extending from Kaukauna to Green Bay and from Two Rivers to Manitowoc, knows nothing about it.

NEW LIGHTS ARE BEING INSTALLED IN 4TH WARD

The crew of men engaged in installing the new street lighting system are today getting poles in the Fourth ward having been compelled to transfer the work from the Third ward on account of the non-arrival of lamps, cross-arms and supplies. The lamps of the ornamental system which have been out of commission for three months because of the impossibility of retuning the necessary fixtures, are again in operation.

The men's meeting scheduled for Sunday afternoon at the Y. M. C. A. has been postponed until March, because of the memorial service to be held at Lawrence Memorial chapel in the afternoon. Dr. Kinsman was to have delivered an address on the league of nations at the meeting. The regular meeting of the Bible study class will be conducted under Prof. Weston at the Y. M. C. A. LAKE STEAMER IS HELD FAST ON ABANDONED CRIB

Cargo Valued at $50,000 Is Removed from Stranded Vessel—Life Boats Ready for Use

Chicago.—The $50,000 cargo was removed early today from the steamship Alabama, fast on a submerged concrete superstructure of an abandoned crib off the Chicago harbor.

The vessel was taking on water and several feet was reported in all holds. The engine-room was protected by water tight buttressed beams and the pumps were kept in operation.

Although the crew of 50 men was still standing by, life boats were slung over the side ready for any emergency. A few passengers, all men, were aboard.

Captain Elmer Reddenger was in charge of the vessel. A fog hung over the lake late yesterday and Captain Reddenger, in attempting to pick his way around an ice field, encountered the crib.

The vessel was bound from Muskegon to Chicago.

WANTS STATES TO DECIDE WHAT IS INTOXICATING

Washington.—Amendments to the Volstead prohibition enforcement law, which would allow states by referendum to decide how dry they shall be, were introduced in the house today by Representative Minahan, New Jersey.

Minahan would allow states to decide what shall be the maximum amount of alcohol that makes a beverage intoxicating instead of having congress bar all drinks with more than one-half of one percent.

"My bill is essentially consistent with the constitutional amendment," he said, "because it simply provides for a definition as to the phrase 'intoxicating liquor' and takes heed of the concurrent power specifically embodied in the constitutional amendment for the protection of the rights of the people of each individual state."

Grip, Influenza Hamlin's Wizard Oil a Reliable, Antiseptic Preventive

During influenza epidemics spray the nose and throat several times a day with one part Wizard Oil and two parts water, using an atomizer. If you haven't an atomizer, gargle the throat and snuff the mixture up the nose. This treatment sets up an antiseptic wall of defense against "Flu" germs.

Chest colds and sore throat lead to grip. Stop them at once with Wizard Oil before they can develop into dangerous influenza.

Get it from druggists for 30c. If not satisfied, return the bottle and get your money back.

GRAIN MARKET GETS A SET-BACK TODAY

HEAVY SHIPMENTS OF GRAIN TO EUROPE FROM ARGENTINE TAKES BUYERS OUT OF MARKET.

Chicago.—The grain market on the Chicago board of trade today suffered a set-back. Heavy shipments of grain to Europe from Argentina, causing exporters to drop out of the buying, was a factor in the decline. An appeal by Julius Barnes, head of the United States Grain Corporation for wider use of grain corporation flour, was interpreted as a bearish influence. Provisions were irregular.

STOCKS HIGHER IN THE TRADING TODAY

PRICES OPENED IRREGULARLY BUT STEADY TENDENCY TO CLIMB SHOWN IN LATER TRADING

By United Press Leased Wire
New York.—The stock market was irregular at the opening today. Some of the big speculative issues made gains. General Motors being up 1 1/4 to 23 3/4 and Mexican Petroleum up 1 1/4 to 17 1/2 and United States Steel again closed off losing 1/4 to 98 1/2.

U. S. Stores opened at 70, off 1/4; Southern Railway 23 1/2, off 1/4; Baldwin 110 1/2, up 1/4; New Haven 31 1/2, unchanged; Sinclair 39 1/4, off 1/4; U. S. Rubber 29 1/2, up 1/4; Pan American 84 off one.

The strength in sterling exchange, which made a new high on recovery today of $2.47 1/4, created a decidedly favorable impression in the stock market and resulted in a big advance in prices, which took in virtually the whole list.

General Motors advanced about 8 points to 24 1/4. Mexican Petroleum rose above 180. Pan American sold at $7 1/2. At its highest Mexican Petroleum was up nearly 20 points from its low on the break.

EYE WITNESS SAYS DE THIER NOT AT FAULT IN ACCIDENT

POLICE SEARCH FOR WITNESS OF ACCIDENT TO RUBBER GIRL IS CROWNED WITH SUCCESS

After a search of several days, the police finally located the only known eye witness of the accident in which little Marcella Ruberg was killed earlier in the week. He proved to be Patrick Woods, an employee of the Interlake Pulp and Paper company, and residing at the Egbert hotel.

When questioned about the accident, Mr. Woods gave about the same version of the matter as that of Edward De Thier, driver of the truck which struck the child as she darted from behind the street car from which she had alighted. He stated that he was standing at the northeast corner of College avenue and Drew street waiting for the car to pass. The car had started and gone about ten feet when he saw the child run diagonally across College avenue to the northwest corner of Drew street. As soon as the driver of the truck saw the girl, he is said to have taken every precaution to prevent the automobile from striking her. He turned sharply to the left, and it is the impression of Mr. Woods that the car skidded over the snow as the brakes were applied, the right fender striking the child and throwing her to the road. Some remark was made at the time about De Thier having no chains on the wheels of his truck. The child was picked up and carried to her home and Mr. Woods left immediately because he seemed unable to bear the sight of the child's suffering. He stated also that the truck was proceeding at a normal rate of speed, and that so far as he knew, the tragedy was absolutely unavoidable and not the fault of the driver.

It is urged by the authorities that every driver should let this case serve as a warning to exercise the utmost care in passing the left side of a street car that stops to discharge passengers. Pedestrians usually emerge cautiously, but it is a case of both the people and the driver exercising care, the one to see if any cars are approaching, and the other to slow down to not over eight miles an hour and to sound a warning.

KOEPEKE IS TALLEST MAN IN GUARD COMPANY

Appleton guard companies have always been noted for at least one member who seemed the lower walks of life and stooped only to a door. The machine gun company now organized is no exception. Among the recruits received in the recent campaign is Lawrence Koepke, North Division street, who reaches 75 inches above the soles of his shoes. Koepke is the tallest man in the company.

WOOD SUPPORTERS READY TO START A CAMPAIGN

With the possible intention to run a ticket in Wisconsin for the candidacy of Major General Wood for the presidency, his Wisconsin supporters have opened an office at the Wisconsin hotel, Milwaukee, with J. J. Goldsmith in charge. Fred F. Wettengel and other locally interested men are keeping in close touch with the Milwaukee office, and if the decision is made to get up a delegation, they will launch a local campaign at once. An announcement was expected during the day giving the decision of the state office.

KERENSKY RUSSIANS DISLIKE TO TESTIFY

The United Press Leased Wire Washington.—Reluctance of Russians who represented the Kerensky regime here to testify against Ludwig C. A. K. Martens, soviet agent in the United States, may cut short investigation of his activities by the senate foreign relations committee. It was intimated today.

Members of the committee had expected to call Boris Bakmeteff, ambassador under the Kerensky government and other officials connected with the old Russian embassy but they are said to have upset plans by claiming "diplomatic immunity."

BUSHEY STUDENTS TO DEBATE WORLD LEAGUE

COMMERCIAL COLLEGE PUPILS PREPARE FOR DISCUSSION OF TREATY AND RESERVATIONS

Ratification of the league of nations covenant will be the subject of a debate by Bushey college students on Monday evening, March 12, it was announced today. The question will be as follows:

"Resolved that the League of Nations covenant shall be passed by the senate as presented by President Wilson without reservations."

The affirmative will be upheld by Orville Zepp Manning Schultz, Miss Hazel Wells and Miss Myrtle Wiedenbeck.

Negative debaters will be Lynn Hilton, Oscar G. Olson, Miss Annetta Ebenstiner and Chester Kanouse.

Members of the affirmative team have already addressed a letter to Joseph Tumulty, secretary to President Wilson, requesting that information to bolster up their arguments.

SPRING SENSATION IN ELROY MYSTERY

WARRANT FOR ARREST OF RAILROAD CONDUCTOR IS ISSUED BY THE FEDERAL AUTHORITIES

El Roy, Wis.—A sensation was sprung in the investigation of the El Roy "poison wine party" mystery today when federal officials issued a warrant calling for the arrest of Frank Dorchard, Chicago railroad man, who, it is alleged, brought the liquor which caused the death of two persons to this city.

W. M. Kelly, local marshal, declared that he will produce startling evidence when he is called to testify at a John Doe hearing late this afternoon. Kelly started an investigation of the poison party immediately after the death of Ray Hart, 27 son of a local banker and Mrs. Nellie Ward, organist at the El Roy Catholic church. He refused to disclose details of what he discovered through his investigation.

Dorchard, who the state had ordered to appear as a witness, failed to arrive here when the hearing was opened by Prosecutor Clinton G. Price today. He is under surveillance in his home

Sure Way To Get Rid Of Dandruff

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely and that is to dissolve it. This destroys it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft; and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail.

GOOD ROADS AND MORE OF THEM.

One of the most important matters to come before the meeting of the county board next Tuesday will be consideration of an appropriation to cover road work to be done in Outagamie county during the approaching season. The amount to be asked for is $250,000. This is required to complete work already commenced and contemplated and necessary to secure appropriations from the state. It is understood that $50,000 of this amount will be covered in the form of a bond issue.

There can be no question about the wisdom of continuing Outagamie county's policy of permanent highway improvement. We have already attained a leading place among the good roads counties of Wisconsin, and it is incumbent upon us to preserve this position and to proceed with the enlargement of this policy. The great benefits which have resulted from permanent highway construction are so apparent as to leave no doubt as to the soundness and wisdom of the program.

In our judgment the only question to be determined this year is what amount of construction should be authorized after giving due consideration to the scarcity of building materials and their high cost. Of course the answer to this depends largely upon the type of roads to be built. The allotment of cement for Wisconsin is so restricted that unless it is augmented in some manner it will limit each county to a comparatively small supply of this material. This situation and the excessive prices which now prevail have brought about, or rather enforced, retrenchment of building programs in most counties for the season of 1920. We believe, however, that the sum of $250,000 can be expended in Outagamie county this year for road work to good advantage. We think it may be taken for granted that the county board is favorable to highway improvement as a permanent and continuing policy. Whatever it decides with reference to this year's activity will undoubtedly be based upon the needs of the county on the one hand, and the building situation on the other.

As a general proposition the Post-Crescent believes that road building is handled most satisfactorily to the taxpayers and to the interests of the county through the issuance of bonds. The tendency everywhere is to provide for this kind of public improvement through large bond issues, available in such sums annually as will permit the systematic and related construction of permanent roads, the bonds to be retired over a long period of years, and having proper regard for the value of the investment in the future and the taxation liability that ought to attach during this period. We believe that the greatest single factor which will contribute to the prosperity and progress of Outagamie county and its people will be the perfection of an elaborate system of permanent highways, toward which it has already made an auspicious beginning. Our greatest rural need, and not our least municipal need, is good roads and more of them.

WOMEN AND THE TREATY.

The League of Women Voters held a national convention this week in Chicago. Significance attaches to the fact that this organization adopted a resolution endorsing the league of nations covenant without reservations. It cannot of course be said with any degree of certainty to what extent this resolution represents the sentiment of women throughout the United States. Possibly exception will be taken by some to the competency of feminine opinion to pass upon this important question. However this may be, the fact remains that women have been admitted in large measure to participation in our public and political affairs. This privilege carries with it the right of opinion and activity in matters of national and international policy. Our own belief is that women who interest themselves sufficiently in a question like that involved in the league of nations are quite as qualified to pass judgment upon it as are the men. Certainly the consequences arising out of the proposal to enforce world peace apply to them equally with the men.

The significance of the resolution adopted at Chicago lies in the fact that it indicates a willingness of the country to accept the league of nations on practically any basis. While this representative body of suffragists has endorsed the league without reservations, it is reasonable to suppose that it would approve ratification of the covenant with any reasonable reservations. The important thing is that it is for the league, believing that it will serve the purposes for which it is created and that the United States is morally obligated to accept membership in it. Moreover, it expresses by inference a conclusion that this nation can enter the league and discharge its responsibilities without jeopardizing American interests.

All of which is additional evidence that the country expects the senate to ratify the peace treaty and league of nations covenant and not drag them into a political campaign. Present indications are that the senate is again wavering. Efforts of the leaders supporting extreme and moderate reservations to reach a compromise appear to be farther apart than ever. Mr. Lodge is ill and no one can speak with authority in his absence. Mr. Hitchcock is disposed to believe that the treaty is doomed to injection in the presidential election. It is to be hoped that he is wrong and that the widespread dissatisfaction existing throughout the country over the failure of the senate to act will yet constitute enough pressure to bring the opposing forces together. We should have ratification of the treaty in some form before adjournment. If we do not there will be general public disappointment and dissatisfaction, and responsibility for inaction will be assessed by the people with discriminating understanding.

THE SHIP CONTROVERSY.

The controversy over the proposal to sell the former German passenger liners has reached the courts through the granting of a temporary injunction which prevents consummation of the deals now pending for their disposal. Mr. Hearst is principally back of this move. That he is animated largely by his extreme hatred of Great Britain is shown by his attempts to establish an understanding between the governments of the United States and England for the sale of the ships to British interests. That there is no basis for such a charge goes without saying. It does not even require a denial by the president or by the shipping board. Our government is neither so vulnerable nor so vicious as to be a party to such a transaction.

The question with reference to the ships is one of policy. Is it desirable to sell the vessels to private interests at a price much below their real value, or would it be better for the government to retain and operate them? We think it will be agreed that the ships should not be sacrificed at too great a loss. We are of the opinion of Raymond B. Stevens of the shipping board that if we cannot secure a fair value for them they should be held until they can either be sold at their real value or until congress authorizes their sale or operation for the express purpose of aiding the American merchant marine. One thing is certain, this splendid fleet should not be permitted to go into foreign ownership or control. Higher bids by foreign interests should not persuade us to part with the ships. They should be held for exclusively American interests, whether federal or private.

If the United States does not build up a powerful merchant marine as a result of the favorable position it has been placed in by the war both with reference to ships and trade opportunities, it never will do so. This is the time to strike and strike vigorously for commercial power on the high seas. Everything is in our favor. In order to carry out this policy successfully we must operate our merchant marine through favored private ownership, or we must resort to government ownership under conditions which probably would make little difference so far as finances, tariffs and taxes are concerned. If the vessels go to private interests they must go at a loss, and we must have laws which will protect them against foreign competition. If they are operated by the government we can expect no returns on the basis of their real worth, and in all probability they will turn out to be a liability so far as upkeep and maintenance go.

Public opinion will support one course or the other. Those normally inclined to government ownership will naturally favor this plan, and vice versa. Whichever plan may prevail, there can be no doubt that the people desire the ships to remain under American control.

Confessions of a Bride

(Copyright, 1920, by The Newspaper Enterprise Association.)

The Secret Chamber Is a Source of Wonderment to Gene Archer.

I think that I never expected my husband and Chrys and Jordan Spence to come aboard the yacht that day, but I talked as if I did while Daddy walked the deck with me. And I wondered why human beings pretend so to each other in times of terrible anxiety. Nobody is ever much deceived by attempts to bolster up a body's courage. Perhaps in trying to blind others to a great trouble, one best comforts oneself, perhaps by assuming that our friends would join us, stifled the secret foreboding that they would not.

Gene Archer, wrapped in steamer rugs, was brought on deck in a hooded cloak. He was well enough to talk, Dr. Travers said, and so, at last, we had an opportunity to discuss the curious events of that terrible week we had spent at the hacienda.

Of course I was wild to question Archer and very naturally my first query was about the manner in which he and the others had so suddenly disappeared from the secret chamber.

I described my remarkable descent in the shaft and explained to Archer that every one of the "valiant" blows he and Spence had intended for my rescue had in reality driven me farther and farther from it.

"Chance certainly worked in a fortunate disguise that day," I concluded. "You sent me straight down to rescue Bob—to save my husband from death!"

"Then Archer had to have that long story. 'May Bob's luck hold!'" he said solemnly and then, as if his seriousness implied too much, he added carelessly:

"Some day I'm going back there and find out how those architectural tricks work. I must hand it to those old Spanish masons—they were some extraordinary chaps!"

"Marvelous concrete they used, too," said Daddy. "Just think how the walls have stood severe earthquakes! There must have been hundreds of shakes since the original buildings were erected."

"I'm praying the secret chamber is still in existence even though the old church has been destroyed as reported. I want to get a look at the inside of that room and that shaft again," said Archer, who always finds his profession the most interesting of all subjects of conversation. My voice trembled as I thought of the three precious lives which so recently had been at stake in the mysterious room.

Daddy Lorimer doesn't like sentimentality. He put a steady hand on mine, then turned to Archer with:

"Go on with your story Gene. What became of you after this little girl dropped down the shaft? She says that when she and Bob climbed out again, the secret chamber was absolutely empty!"

"Spence and I were vicious, Mrs. Lorimer, when your cry awakened us and we saw you vanishing behind the door in the paneling. I suppose we acted like crazy men, for we never stopped our desperate hammering until the door fell in. Then we leaned over the edge of the pit and looked into the darkness—and heard nothing—"

That was true, thought I. The place was as still as a tomb, for Bob had touched me and was running his fingers over my face in the darkness—and I knew him—and was unafraid! "Then a big draft struck us," Archer continued. "It indicated an open door behind us. Spence and I turned at the same instant—turned to face an empty room! Mr. Lorimer, your daughter had vanished! She had disappeared without making a sound! Of course we rushed to the opening in the wall but we reached it only to fall into the clutches of four masked Mexicans. The rest of the experience, for us, wasn't unique. We had survived it before. We were gagged and bound and dumped into the tower room. There Bob and Mrs. Bob found us. But we never had any idea what became of Chrystobel Lorimer. And we felt responsible. Did she escape? Did she find a safe place to hide? Or was she dragged off by the same devils who got us?"

THE PEOPLE'S FORUM

Editor, Post-Crescent.—I have been reliably informed that an out of town concern is installing hot air heating apparatus in our city that does not comply with the building laws governing the installation of such heating apparatus. I would warn our people to be careful and see to it that this apparatus is installed according to the following standards:

Every hot air pipe contained in or passing through a combustible partition or floor shall be placed inside another pipe arranged to maintain a four inch air space between the two pipes on all sides; or the pipe shall be securely covered with one-fourth inch corrugated asbestos. The bend at the bottom of the vertical pipe shall be kept at least two inches from any woodwork. Where a hot air pipe is placed in a four inch partition, metal lath over the pipe is recommended. GEO. P. M'GILLAN, Fire Chief

LITTLE, OLD TOWN.

Little, old town which the sun shines through
 And the wind blows blindly by
 There's something inside me calling you
 And I vainly wonder why
 For when I was of you, all of us said
 The town was dull and the town was dead,
 And whenever a lucky one went away,
 We made it a text for a holiday.

Little old town with the string of stores
 And the hand stand in the square
 With its plying potter of lazy chores
 And its daily devil-may-care
 With its little, white church on the shaded street
 Where the boys and girls were apt to meet,
 And if ever the angels heard their prayers
 They must have noted persistent pairs.

Little, old town which the sun shines through
 And the wind blows blindly by
 Neither world nor weather take note of you,
 For they scorn you even as I
 Yet if one of the old town's shariest kin
 Comes up to the city and wanders in,
 Oh we seek for a corner and sit us down
 And live over years in the little, old town.

What About the Cop-Goat?

J. T. G.—In the west, sheep owners have sheep dogs and the sheep know them as guardians and friends. In the waste places so extensively used for grazing great herds there is no menace or but seldom, from sheep killing dogs. But there is a constant danger from coyotes and wolves. I have seen many of these herds running into thousands of sheep and always observed a number of strong scrappy goats invariably feeding on the edge of the herd, never bunched together as the sheep are.

These goats are trained to feed in this way and when one of the herd dogs approaches the goats are the last to respond to the insistence of the dog to close up or change direction, so that the edge of the herd is practically patrolled on all sides by goats.

Let a strange dog approach, the sheep give way, but not the goats, who immediately assume a pugnacious attitude, and many times have I seen an over-curious strange dog put to flight by a charge from one or more of the sentinels.

Every sheep killing dog is a coward and flies at the slightest resistance if he meets it before the excitement of the chase is on. Only one encounter with a good strong active goat would be necessary to turn that dog away from a drove of sheep where the dog recognized the scent of the goat.

There must be profit in raising goats in the rural districts. Why not train them to run with sheep for their protection?

The Torture of Shaving.

Except for variations in the diameter of the shafts of the hairs all beards are equally tough. When a man imagines or is told that he has a wiry beard, he has a dull razor or he lacks skin oil.

When there is a shortage of skin oil (sebum) the skin is hard and rough and the shaver frequently cuts himself, trying to hack off his "wiry" beard. After a shave he feels sore. The poor fellow is tempted to launch upon a veritable orgy of shopping for shaving soap, fancy razors and soothing skin lotions. And all he needs really is a little more skin oil.

Sometimes this shortage of skin oil is due to the man's skin's advancing age. Owing to prolonged abuse of the skin it may become senile considerably in advance of the rest of the body. Women who have made the mistake of purchasing complexion creams at the drug store realize the truth of this statement all too early.

It is an amazingly common practice for barbers to urge upon customers various highly alcoholic lotions after shaving, such as bay rum, witch hazel, various scented lotions or removes considerable skin oil, if the lather has left any in the skin. The effect on the skin is disastrous, ruinous if the habit is kept up regularly.

The more oil there is in a soap, especially a soap used for shaving, the better for the face and the easier the shaving will be. For this reason some soaps which are super-fatted and intended merely as toilet soaps, are preferable to others at least for adults. Youths may find drying soaps appropriate for their excessively oily skins.

A few drops of some neutral or bland oil should be used on the face after shaving, and before shaving to render the beard softer, and preserve the razor's edge. Any oil will do—cocoa butter, olive oil, sweet almond oil (sweet oil), liquid petrolatum or soft petrolatum (vaseline), or freshly made cream (made up by the druggist on order).

Unless for the deliberate purpose of removing oil from the skin (a purpose occasionally to be served in youth) alcoholic lotions and toilet waters should be avoided, and oily, or at least non-drying agents used instead.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

The Credulous Age.

Kindly inform me how to take the best care of myself in the change of life. I am a woman around forty years of age. (H. A. T.)

ANSWER—Take care of yourself just as you would at twenty or sixty and don't let it worry you that you happen to be a member of the credulous sex.

Are Dentists Specialists?

You have kindly offered to suggest competent specialists or physicians for your readers. Will you kindly recommend a reliable dentist for the treatment of abscessed roots? (Mrs. S. S. C.)

ANSWER—I meant that I would suggest competent physicians or specialists by mail. But I regret I have no data concerning dentists. Perhaps your physician would recommend one.

Galvanized Pots.

Please inform me whether food cooked in a galvanized pot and allowed to remain in the pot a few hours will cause poisoning. I was told that it would. (Mrs. C. C.)

ANSWER—Such food is no more likely to cause poisoning than food cooked in any other kind of pot. Galvanized ware, aluminum ware, enamel ware, iron ware, all are perfectly safe and none will cause any kind of poisoning or injury.

Ivy Poisoning Immunization.

Can you tell me whether it is possible, and if so how to proceed to immunize oneself against the skin inflammation produced by poison ivy? (Can you suggest an emergency remedy or treatment for ivy poisoning?) (G. W.)

ANSWER—Glad to send you a little monograph which will answer your questions if you will repeat your request and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Heart Disease.

I understand that you have some free pamphlets of instruction about heart disease. I would be pleased to receive your pamphlet if there is no charge attached. (C. T.)

ANSWER—There is no charge attached to any service I can render readers. Send a stamped addressed envelope for the pamphlet and be sure to explain whether your trouble is valvular disease or heart muscle disease.—(C. V. D.)

INCREASED TAXES ENLARGE DEFICIT OF WATER WORKS

DEPARTMENT'S DEFICIT LAST SIX MONTHS OF 1919 LARGER THAN SAME MONTHS IN 1918

The city water commission presented a report to the city council Wednesday night which covered an operation period from July 1 to Dec. 31, 1919. It showed a condensed income statement interpreted by several detailed statements of revenue and expenses. Comparisons with different operation periods were made and it also contained a statement of property and plant account, to show amount due the department from the city general fund for extensions, etc. The department still operates at a deficit. The report shows a decided increase in income, which, however, is offset by an increase in expenses. The increase in expense is caused mainly by the tax item, taxes being based on the 1919 tax rate on the assessable plant value. A small increase is also shown in departmental expenses caused by increased costs of supplies and materials, as well as wages paid.

The tax item is approximately $3,200 greater than for a similar period for the year 1918. Were this taken out of the deficit for 1919, six months operation, as shown below, the net result would be a deficit of approximately $2,600, an amount which is considerably below that of the previous year.

A condensed statement of income account of water department for last six months of 1919 compared with a similar period of 1918 shows results as follows:

July 1 to Dec. 31, 1918: Total operating revenue, $30,577.95. Total operating expense, $15,602.38; taxes accrued, $4,518; depreciation charged off, $5,658.90; total $25,779.28. Net operating revenue, $4,798.67; non operation revenue, loss, $7.77; gross income $4,790.90. Interest accrued on bonds, $10,669.32. Deficit, six months operation, $5,878.42.

July 1 to Dec. 31, 1919: Total operating revenue, $34,707.15. Total expense, $16,765.91; taxes accrued, $7,729.17; depreciation charged off, $5,837.37; total $30,332.45. Net operating revenue, $4,374.70; non operation revenue, loss, $1,021.83; gross income $3,352.87. Interest accrued on bonds, $10,219.32. Deficit, six months operation $6,866.45.

A further summary of the made of gross operation cost increase over the previous year as follows:

Total increase, as compared, $4,553.17. Itemized: Tax increase, $3,211.17; depreciation, $178.47; departmental increase, $1,163.53; total, $4,553.17.

Other statements of the report go into greater detail on operation expenses. An item that is of interest is the amount of fuel oil used, pump station operation, same showing a decrease in the sum of $935. This was made possible through the added storage capacity for fuel oil which enabled the purchase of a supply at a low price, advantage being taken of market conditions.

Another statement shows property and plant value, new additions itemized and equipment removed with net results. The total of all extensions and additions was $20,818.98. The greatest item making up this total is that of additions to mains, amounting to $14,974.39. Included in this is the cost of Smith valves installed, amounting to $2,563.84. The balance represents new hydrants, meters, services, chlorine machine, Smith valve inserting machine and incidentals.

Another statement shows maintenance costs of a large nature which were charged against the depreciation reserve account, the total of maintenance items being, $5,403.42. The items include the repairing of six inch main crossing river near the Graef Manufacturing company's plant, reboring of cylinders of engines and incidental repairs in connection therewith, painting of stand pipe, repair of several valves at plant, and several incidental items. The book balance in depreciation reserve account, Jan. 1, 1920, was $32,613.79. The department charges off each year a fair amount of depreciation, which becomes an operation cost of such year as charged and is credited to this depreciation reserve account, which makes provision for heavy maintenance costs as such arise. Other statements were included in the report.

FOUNTAIN IS DIRECTOR OF LUMBERMEN'S ASSN.

Milwaukee—Charles E. Babcock, attorney, president of the Necedah Lumber company, president of the Ladah State bank, and a son of the late Congressman J. W. Mr. Babcock has for years been a prominent member of the lumbermen's organization and also is active in the Wisconsin Bankers' association.

D. S. Montgomery, Milwaukee, secretary of the association, and George W. La Pointe, Menomonie, treasurer, were unanimously re-elected, while Otto E. Mike Wagner, who has been confined to his home for several days with an attack of grip, was able to return to work this morning.

Mrs. B. W. Wells, director of the Home Service office of the Red Cross, is back at her duties after being confined to her home by illness.

Miss Dorothy De Young has resumed her position at the Wisconsin & Northern railway office after an illness of two weeks with influenza.

Elmer Johnson, local wrestling promoter, will go to Green Bay this evening to witness the Zoll-Cutler match. He will be stationed in Cutler's corner during the bout.

Sketch by Irish Author and Patriot Who Will Visit Appleton is to be Presented March 1

"Cathleen Ni Houlihan?" the patriotic play of William Butler Yeats, who will appear here March 5, will be presented March 1 in the old chapel by the students of the dramatic action class of Lawrence college. In addition to the play, an interesting program centering around the work of the poet-dramatist will be presented.

Fancy Ripe Fresh Strawberries, Cauliflowers, Spinach, Head Lettuce, Cucumbers, etc. Special sale on extra heavy Black Diamond Grapesfruit at UCKERMAN'S GROCERY.

The play is especially interesting because of its national setting. In it Mr. Yeats has set forth the wrongs of Ireland under the dominance of outsiders. Mr. Yeats is not a propagandist, but he does believe in self-government for Ireland and his play strikingly portrays his national sympathies.

STREET GRAVELING IS STOPPED BY DEEP SNOW

The department of streets did not make much progress this winter with the graveling of streets on account of the deep snow and cold weather. It was planned to gravel several streets, but work had to be abandoned after the north end of Oneida street was completed and a good start made on Meade street. It is possible that hereafter all gravel used on the streets will be shipped in by the carload. The Waupaca Sand and Gravel company which has just opened a new pit at Binghamton on the Wisconsin & North road, has quoted the city a price that is considered very reasonable.

Soldiers Will Endeavor to Enlist Men in Fourth Division—Victory Buttons To Be Distributed

Special efforts will be made to enlist men in the 47th and 59th infantry regiments and the 13th field artillery regiment, because it is proposed to fill those units entirely with Wisconsin men. Men will be enlisted in any branch or unit they desire, however. Headquarters have been established at the armory. WONDERFUL MEAT CUTTER IS IN USE

HOPFENSPERGER BROTHERS INSTALL MODERN LABOR SAVING DEVICE IN THEIR SHOP

Hopfensperger Brothers, meat dealers, of 940 College Ave., have just installed a new meat and bone cutting machine. This machine is the only one of its kind in use north of Chicago. With its aid the operator is able to cut as much meat in any given period as eight men were previously able to cut in the same length of time. The new machine has many advantages over the old method. Pork chops, veal chops, mutton, etc., can be cut in even thicknesses, with no splintered bones as in the old method of cutting with knife and cleaver. The device, which is a distinct innovation, was patented June 2, 1919 and has just been placed on the market. To give an idea of the machine's remarkable capacity it may be said that before purchasing it two days were required in advance of each Saturday sale to cut the meat for that one day sale. With the new method all meat can be cut fresh each Saturday morning for the day's selling. The public is cordially invited to call and see this new machine in operation.

OLD DOBBIN HAULS HIS OWN COFFINS.

The flivver has the laugh on the horse most of the year, but once in a while the horse can hand it to the flivver. Farmers who have the spring fever and cherish the hope that some day the "roller coaster" roads will be to drive an automobile over are buying flivvers. Several new cars have been seen loaded on hay racks and toled to the farm ready for use this summer, but Old Dobbin had to do the job. This winter he has won many laurels that still retain him on the honor roll of the useful.

EVANGELISM WEEK IS OPENED TODAY

DR. E. J. HELMS OF BOSTON, DESCRIBES THREE ETHICAL PRINCIPLES OF LIFE

The program for the week of Evangelism to be conducted at Lawrence college was opened this morning with a talk by Dr. E. J. Helms of the Non-Canon Memorial chapel, Boston, Mass., who will have charge of all the meetings.

A Memorial Service under the auspices of the American Legion will be held at Lawrence Memorial Chapel Feb. 22 at 2 p.m. Everybody welcome.

Ings. Dr. Helms will speak Sunday morning at the Methodist church and at the joint V. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. meeting in the evening in the old chapel.

In this morning's talk, Dr. Helms disclaimed all intention of conducting evangelistic meetings. He stated that he was not an evangelist, but that he had an important message to bring to the student body of Lawrence college. He presented his message in the form of three basic ethical principles of life.

"First, the inestimable value of the individual and the right of every individual to the fullest development of his personality. Second, service, the supreme motive of human activity and the only true estimate of human value and achievement. Third, the inescapable responsibility of all individuals for complete devotion to the welfare of the whole social order, to the end of establishing a genuine human brotherhood."

Dr. Helms will meet the various students in private conferences during his stay here, in addition to conducting the evening meetings.

ANOTHER FIRE ON ROOF OF SACRED HEART SCHOOL

Two fire runs an hour apart kept the fire department busy early this morning. At 6:40 o'clock, fire was discovered on the roof of the Sacred Heart school and the department summoned. Sparks from a chimney are believed to have caused the blaze. Chemicals were used, the damage being slight. This is the second time in less than a week that the school building has been endangered due to flying sparks.

At 7:40 o'clock, a similar fire started at the home of Miss Elizabeth Dawson, 637 Morrison street, but was quickly extinguished without noticeable damage.

A daughter was born Thursday morning to Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Moonen of Kimberly.

STATE ORATORICAL CONTEST TONIGHT

LAWRENCE COLLEGE WILL BE REPRESENTED BY CHINESE STUDENT IN STATE CONTEST

This year's state oratorical contest, to be held at 8:15 o'clock tonight at the Lawrence Memorial chapel, is of special interest because Lawrence college is to be represented by a Chinese student, Yu-Sheng Huang.

Huang, his subject, "Justice for China," is one which is especially dear to him and of timely interest. There will be five judges for the contest but only three, Dean Thomas Holgate and Prof. J. L. Lardner of Northwestern university, and Atty. Karl Muskat of Milwaukee, have been definitely secured.

The program will be opened with a vocal solo by Mrs. Eleanor Mehl Berger. Yu-Sheng Huang will be the first speaker. Gerald S. Thomas of Carroll college will follow him with an oration on "The Returned Soldier," after which Lyle S. Benedict of Beloit college will speak on "An Educated Citizenry." An organ solo will close the program.

The winner of the contest here will be eligible for the sectional contest to be held soon. Gold medals will be awarded to the winners or first and second place.

BALLARD CASE AGAINST SILVERWOOD IS SETTLED

The case of C. B. Ballard against P. W. Silverwood and Outagamie county was settled in circuit court this morning before Judge E. V. Werner and was a partial victory for both the plaintiff and defendants. The action was commenced in 1918 by George Danielson to recover $607.96 charged in excess of the $200 a year that the statutes allowed for committee service for county, state road and bridge committee work. The case was settled for $216.91 plus interest and cost which made a total of $414.04 which Silverwood will return to the county.

MUST CLEAR SNOW FROM ROADS BEFORE THAWS NEXT SPRING

ROADS WILL BE IMPASSABLE AND MUCH DAMAGE MAY RESULT UNLESS ACTION IS TAKEN

There is talk of a county-wide move to put the roads in such condition that they will be passable when the spring thaws arrive. In their present shape, they will present the worst traffic problem known in years.

Where the farmers have been unable to plow out the highway, the snow has been packed down so that the actual sleigh track is four, five or six feet above the road bottom. When the hard crust melts, horses and sleighs will sink to a floundering depth unless the snow is removed in the meantime, leaving only enough to accommodate the sleighing.

The advice of several men familiar with this situation is to have the farmers in all sections of the county got busy with discs and scrapers or snow plows and push the deep snow out of the highway. When it does melt then there will not be enough to make the roads impassable. This is difficult to accomplish, it is stated, because of the continual drifting of the snow into the plowed-out sections, but by keeping at it for a week or two, the results will be worth while. It is a serious matter now to make progress into the country according to the users of the roads, and they dread what may be a more perilous condition later unless some action is taken.

Fred Miller of the town of Clayton, had an unpleasant experience on one of the tricky highways yesterday while hauling three head of cattle to town. He turned over on what looked like a good portion of the roadway and tipped over his live load, bringing himself into a mess of trouble. The cattle were extricated with difficulty and it took nearly two hours to get the load back in shape so he could proceed. One of the cows was injured and the sleigh damaged, but the driver was unhurt.

E. A. Knoke, Shiocton cabbage buyer, was here on business Thursday.

HUSBAND MOVES TO ANOTHER CITY AND WIFE GETS DIVORCE

MARITAL TROUBLES OF MR. AND MRS. LATIMER ARE AIRED IN MUNICIPAL COURT

Anna Latimer was granted a divorce from her husband, W. J. Latimer, a stationary engineer, in municipal court on the ground of cruel and inhuman treatment. She was also given $25 per month alimony. The couple was married in the town of Virginia, Minn., Feb. 2, 1914. The plaintiff had no children by the marriage, but had six from a previous marriage. She charged her husband with cruel and inhuman treatment by calling her vile and abusive names and by accusing her of infidelity, etc. She claimed that the defendant was morose and sullen and threatened plaintiff with divorce and refused to speak to her for weeks at a time.

She states in her complaint that in December, 1917, her husband went to Niagara, where he was employed in the paper mill, without inviting or permitting plaintiff to accompany him. She said he established a separate establishment there, fully furnished, and installed a relative to keep house for him.

PLANTZ RETURNS FROM INTER-CHURCH MEETING

Dr. Samuel Plantz returned this morning from Milwaukee where he attended a number of the sessions of the Wisconsin meeting of the Inter-church World Movement. About 1,000 pastors of the state were present at the sessions.

The program was mostly devoted to addresses by prominent men of the state and outside. One of the especially fine talks of the meet was given Wednesday afternoon by Dr. Zwoimer of Cairo, Egypt, a well known author on the Mohammedan religion.

The meet will close tonight, but Dr. Plantz was forced to return here today on account of various duties. Dr. I. B. Wood, Dr. H. E. Peabody, Dr. J. H. Tippet, the Rev. George Stickney, and Judson G. Rosebush were the only local men to attend.

Rear Admiral Taylor, chief of the Bureau of Construction and Repair, says the peace-time strength of the navy after July 1 will be about 919 ships.

MIGHTY BRITISH ATOM GIVES BOXING FANS A TREAT WITH HIS SPEED AND HIS PUNCH

(By Henry L. Farrell)
By United Press Leased Wire
Jersey City, N. J.—Jimmy Wilde, flyweight champion of the world, knocked out Mickey Russell, New Jersey bantam in the seventh round of a scheduled eight round fight here last night. The champion registered rights and lefts to the jaw of Russell seemingly at will in every round. His victim was bleeding, starting from swollen lips and hanging on in only one round, the fourth, when he made some weak efforts on the offense, did Russell come within a mile of making a showing.

In the seventh round, Wilde backed him into a neutral corner and cut loose a fusillade on his body. Russell got away, punched headlong across the ropes to the other corner and flopped on the ropes. The referee was rushing to stay the arm of Wilde when the towel fluttered in.

New York—Lots of American boys can beat Jimmy Wilde—in a poker game, perhaps, but not in the ring. The wee Welshman, flyweight champion of the world, exposed his pale face, his narrow-chested chest and his fragile legs for the first time in the east last night and a packed house in Jersey City wondered.

They wondered at the power and ability of the machine in that little 106 pound shell. They wondered that Mickey Russell, Wilde's opponent, was able to stay seven rounds under such punishment and they marvelled how in the kingdom come Jack Sharkey ever did what he is said to have done in Milwaukee—outpoint that mile of fist perfection.

Mickey Russell isn't a great fighter but he is a rugged youngster, game to the core. That's why he was picked as the opponent of the champion. Game as he was he did not have a chance. Wilde showed a pair of fists much he doesn't know about himself. He works a left that shoots out with speed and precision. His right goes over with a whang at times and he uses it most any time and place he wants to use it.

Wilde swung his rights and lefts with the precision of a pendulum and they ticked off nearly every second of the fight with a resounding smack on the jaw of the Jersey City boy. Russell had nothing but a feeble left to jab with as he kept his right up under his jaw trying to beat the blows that always beat him by a second.

The tiny champion has a great attack. He's a great fighter and a master judge of distance. The fans didn't get a look at his defense. He was so completely the master that he ran around here as an infant, open all over, but Russell couldn't get through. Once in a while he would send a weak shot across only to find the champion covered up in a flash light like a whip-pet tank.

Jimmy is a cool little ring general. He has confidence galore. He knows the game and doesn't waste a move. He is a real boxer and the fans hereabouts will want to see him again.

MINNEAPOLIS BOWLER DEFEATS JIMMY SMITH

By United Press Leased Wire
St. Paul—Jimmy Mitchell of Minneapolis was the idol of I. B. A. bowlers here today. He defeated the famed Jimmy Smith of Milwaukee in a ten game match by a margin of 14 pins. Mitchell rolled 75 strikes in the ten games. His score was 2,357 to Smith's 2,216. Mitchell's average was 235 and Smith's 221.

Two Minneapolis five man teams headed the list in the quintet competition of the annual bowling association which ended last night. The Central of Minneapolis finished first with a score of 2,946. The Archer Ties finished second. Others finished in the following order:

Imperial leather, Chicago, 2,775; Bilhows, St. Paul, 2,741; Ziegler Chocolates, Milwaukee, 2,730; Overland, Kansas City, 2,728; Gillette Rubber, Eau Claire, 2,718; Kators, Chicago, 2,717; St. Francis, St. Paul, 2,704; and Fort Dodge Commercial, 2,700.

Other events will be wound up today.

LAWRENCE AND CARROLL CLASH HERE TONIGHT

Last Home Game of the Season Will be Played at Alexander Gymnasium—Chance for Second Place

Lawrence plays Carroll at Alexander gymnasium tonight in the final home game of the season for the Blue and White. The whistle will blow at seven o'clock, in order to permit the students to attend the state oriented contest at Lawrence Memorial chapel.

The entire college is puzzling hard for a victory over Waukegan tonight. A victory tonight and another win from Beloit will give Coach Beyer's quintet second place in the conference standings.

PIRIST IS BESTED IN COLUMBIA HALL TOURNEY

R. Murphy defeated the Rev. Father Grill, 50 to 40 points at the billiard tournament at Columbia hall last night, and Kerrigan defeated B. Murphy, 50 to 40 points. In pocket billiards, R. Murphy defeated Kerrigan 50 to 21 points, and S. Balliet defeated Holzer 50 to 43 points.

JIMOS BOWLERS NOT IN MONEY AT STATE TEN PIN TOURNAMENT

LOCAL BOWLERS UNABLE TO GET AMONG THE WINNERS—SIMONS AND CLAUS HIGH IN DOUBLES

Manitowoc.—Applon bowlers failed to get into the money in the state bowling tournament here Wednesday afternoon and yesterday. The Jimos team rolled 2,424 in the five men events. In the doubles G. Katoulous and C. Coon hit the wood for 874, while Simons and Claus counted 1,025.

Scores in singles follow:
G. Jimos, 542; C. Klaus, 488; G. Coon, 482.

Arcade bowlers will take the alleys this afternoon and tomorrow. The Oshkosh B'Gosh Overalls, formerly the Atherton Hotel of Oshkosh, and 1919 champions of the American Bowling congress, counted but 2,648 here on Thursday.

The team was sadly handicapped by the loss of F. Jaeger, who is laid up with a torn ligament in his right leg. "Cozy" Dolan, baseball player of prominence, took Jaeger's place and totaled but 486 pins. The other members of the team rolled scores ranging from 504 to 583.

The 2,648 count by the Overalls was the highest score for the first two shifts.

Thursday's marbling in the singles and doubles was the poorest of the tourney to date. There was but one 600 tally registered in the final event and the honors went to a Manitowoc knight, O. Rugowski counted 204, 182 and 222 for a total of 608. This count failed to place him among the first twelve leaders, however.

In the doubles E. Zube and H. Pätzak of Milwaukee led the list with 1,114. There were three other 1,100 scores turned in. With the tourney four days from closing, the top men in the singles and doubles appear to be certain of their positions.

Walter Swift of Milwaukee need not worry with his remarkable total of 737 in the singles. The $100 cash prize which goes to the winner of the individual event is just as good as nearly being in Wallie's seat. Adam Nolte and Oscar Tabbert, doubles headlines, are practically assured first money in the two man race with their count of 1,218.

Team Scores.
Oshkosh B'Gosh Overalls, 2,648; Ervecos, Oshkosh, 2,285; Universal Motors, Oshkosh, 2,376; Brooklyns, Oshkosh, 2,178; Clippers, Oshkosh, 2,438; Home Doves, Oshkosh, 2,339; Sirenas, Oshkosh, 2,579; Schmidt Colts, Juneau, 2,452; Veterans, Sheboygan, 2,211; Schill's Shoes, Sheboygan, 2,431; Sturm Red Heads, Milwaukee, 2,245; Maynard Steels, Milwaukee, 2,460; Burger Boat Co., Manitowoc, 2,470; Arcade Billiards, Manitowoc, 2,272.

HIGHS BATTLE SHAWANO IN COLLEGE GYMNASIUM

Oshkosh Men Will Referee Scrap Tomorrow Night—Big Crowd of Shawano Rooters Coming

The biggest crowd of the season is anticipated for the Shawano-Appleton high basketball game at Alexander gymnasium Saturday evening. The visitors will bring 150 rooters. It has been impossible to accommodate the crowds at previous games, but with Alexander gym in service there will be no crowding.

Hotchkiss, of Oshkosh, has been secured to referee the contest, and the argument over the arbiter which nearly busted up the Antigo game here will not be repeated. The Oshkosh man is one of the most capable referees in the state, and he keeps the players moving.

The Lawrence College wrestling team left Appleton this morning for Madison where it will meet the wrestling team of the University of Wisconsin for the state wrestling championship tomorrow afternoon. Lawrence was weakened in the heavyweight class by the departure from school of Walter Franklin at the end of the first semester. Franklin was the only man to defeat his opponent in the low invasion. Wisconsin is reported to be especially strong in the 145 pound and heavyweight classes while Lawrence has a well balanced team except in the heavier classes.

MIDDLE CLASS TO HAVE HUGE UNION TO GAIN JUSTICE

EASTERN MEN NOW ORGANIZING UNION TO LIBERATE VIC-TIMS OF OPPRESSIVE CONDITIONS

(By Lorry A. Jacobs.)
NEW YORK—Five million members by next Christmas! That's the goal Wilnot Lincoln Morehouse, founder of the first Middle Class Union in America has set for the organization.

Morehouse is no theorist. He is a hard-headed, clear-sighted business man and lawyer. And he means business with this middle class union, articles of incorporation for the organization having been signed by Justice Kelly in the Supreme Court at Brooklyn, and are now in the hands of the secretary of the state of New York.

"I have had this idea in mind for a long time," says Morehouse. "I could not visualize it as it is until I began reading accounts of the work of the Middle Class Unions in England. And immediately I conceived the idea in its concrete form I persuaded Joseph Wolff, a lawyer, Nathan Friedman, a silk merchant, Herman Mendelsohn, Friedman's partner, and Gideon F. Hall, a chemist, all of Brooklyn, to join me as incorporators and the plan was launched.

"It is likely that we, as founders, will drop out of sight, but I have no doubt that the organization will go on, perhaps headed by stronger men than we are."

The organization has 11 stated objects, chief among them being the lightening of the burden of taxation, the securing of fair play for all classes, the attacking of unjustly high costs of living, and the registering and classification of its members in all forms of voluntary civil service.

"It is not to be the aim of this organization to increase wages," says Morehouse. "On the other hand, that is to be farthest from our aims. But we do intend to try and obtain for the middle class cuts in the cost of living that will allow them to live as they should on the pure merit of the results of their labors.

At matters have stood, there has been a perpetual struggle between labor and capital. Labor organizations would declare that this must happen. And the middle class watched it happen. Capital would say that the other must happen. And the middle class would watch it happen.

"Labor would gain the upper hand. The middle class would stand idly by and watch that development and perhaps be crushed by it. Capital would gain the upper hand. The middle class would watch that development and be further crushed by it.

"The object of the Middle Class Union is to prevent such a state of affairs. Recently at Washington, a conference was held to adjust the differences of labor and capital. And in the course of events, they selected others to represent us. Why should they do that? They should not—the middle class should have its own representatives and speak its own mind in such conferences.

"Money should not be a bar to membership in the Middle Class Union. Neither should membership in a labor union. But in the majority of cases members of either of these classes cannot live up to the qualifications for membership because they have representation in the matter of adjustment of economic conditions at the present time.

"We, as charter members of the Middle Class Union, believe heartily in labor unions, although it is our purpose to disorganize and prevent, if possible, undue use of their power. We believe in capital and the need for capital, although we propose to stop unjust use of the power that money brings. In other words, we assert that there does exist class distinction—no matter whether or not that distinction is right or wrong—and we will seek for fair play for all classes.

The weapons of the Middle Class Union, according to Morehouse, are to be not only the strike, but the boycott and lockout as well. One unjust situation may demand the strike, another the boycott, and still another the lockout, although it is Morehouse's opinion that the great weapon is the one which lies most in the power of the middle class—publicity.

"We hope to accomplish most of our aims by the medium of the press," says he. "It is at once the most powerful, the most effective, and the least harmful weapon in the world."

On Genius
Genius gets the world's praise because its work is a tangible product, to be bought, or to be had for nothing. It bribes the common voice to praise it by presents of speeches, poems, statues, pictures, or whatever it can please with. Character evolves its best products for home consumption; but, mild you, it takes a deal more to feed a family for 30 years than to make a holiday feast for our neighbors once or twice.—Holmes.

Vicarious Courtship
Under the social ideals of China every man is anxious to marry, but no man is permitted to seek a wife for himself. The contract of marriage is always made by a third party, and often a man finds himself bound to an imbecile, insane or chronically diseased wife, whose father has paid the marriage broker a high price to get her a husband.

BUY COAL SUPPLY FOR NEXT WINTER EARLY IN SPRING

APPLETON COAL MERCHANTS DO NOT LOOK FOR REDUCTION IN PRICE NEXT SEAS-ON

While there is no great supply of coal on hand, Appleton dealers asserted yesterday that barring a sudden return of cold weather, the city will be able to finish the winter without inconvenience to consumers.

The demand for fuel in Appleton has been above the average this winter. Continued cold weather has caused a heavy drain on coal bins.
A great many people who last fall put in enough coal to "carry them thru" find they are running short. They are now buying in small quantities until the arrival of warm weather.
Appleton coal dealers are not expecting any improvement in the coal situation next year, both as regards supply and price. "Prices will surely not be lower," said one. The increase in wages which the miners are demanding will effect an increase in price.

"Buy your coal early" is the advice of the dealers. "As soon as shipments begin to arrive, which will be in April, stock up your bin for the coming winter."

Shipments at present are of the all-rail kind. All dock supplies have been distributed.

"It is hard to tell," said John Hettinger, when questioned regarding the situation for the coming winter.
"The price increase will depend on the wage increase which the miners are demanding. I do not look for the supply to be any greater."

"There is probably enough coal in Appleton to last the present winter out," Mr. Hettinger stated.
"The present situation is discouraging," said M. Alberty of Stier-Alberty. "We can't get hard or soft coal."

Mr. Alberty stated that as yet the 14 per cent wage increase granted to soft coal miners had not caused a corresponding increase in the price of the product.

Mr. Alberty favored early buying of coal, as soon as it can be secured.
Shipments are not being made from docks, but as soon as coal begins coming, in April, Appleton people are advised to purchase for the coming winter.

The present supply on hand will last the winter out, was the opinion of C. L. Marston of Marston Bros.
"There is a shortage of coal now,"
Mr. Marston said.

"I do not look for any lower prices next year. As regards supply, it is hard to say. Cars are short, the mines are not running. Buy your coal when you can get it, that is the salvation of the consumer," Mr. Marston said.

HEARING ON MEDALS WILL NOT PRODUCE TANGIBLE RESULTS

LOTS OF TIME AND MONEY BE-ING WASTED IN THE SIMS DANIELS CONTRO-VERSY.

(By George B. Waters.)
(Special to Post-Crescent.)

Washington.—What are the benefits to be derived from the Sims-Daniels controversy and the long "investigation" by the Senate Naval Committee, resulting? What is all the turmoil over naval awards about?
How is it going to benefit either the United States government or the man in the street?

I asked Senator Key Pittman, Tonopah, Nev., a member of the subcommittee of the Naval Affairs Committee, to enumerate some of the benefits of the hearing.

"There is not a d— one," he said.
"I asked Admiral Sims that same question. He said: 'there are none.'
I said, 'Then why are we here?' He said, 'I don't know, unless for politics.'"

"That is the whole thing in a nutshell. The questions about naval awards are purely academic. We are just trying to unravel a relatively unimportant problem for the historians."

I asked both Senators Pittman and

Frederick Hale, Portland, Me., the chairman of the sub-committee, if there was a chance that the hearing might lower living costs, defate the currency or settle the transportation muddle.

"We're wasting time," said Senator Pittman. Senator Hale declined to be quoted, but assured me that he had
"not launched the investigation."

The testimony on the one point of awards now covers 1,000 printed pages. In a short time the committee will start a probe into charges made by Sims in his letter to Secretary Daniels, involving the alleged lack of teamwork in the naval forces during the war. That hearing will settle nothing.

On the matter of naval awards the committee will soon submit its report, majority and minority, to the Senate.

What has the hearing revealed?
On Jan. 7 Admiral Sims made public a letter he had written to Daniels, refusing to accept a distinguished service medal, on the grounds that Daniels had arbitrarily changed the awards of navy crosses, distinguished service medals and medals of honor made by the board of awards, headed by Admiral Knight, and composed of 15 or 20 other naval officers. A hearing was started. Admiral Sims testified his orders were when he was sent across to "not let the British pull the wool over his eyes" and "we would as soon fight the British as the Germans." This was before the United States entered the war. Then Admiral Sims sprang the story about the distinguished service medal awarded to Commander David W. Bagley, of the lost ship Jacob Jones, brother-in-law to Daniels.

As a matter of fact the only award that has actually been made as a distinguished service medal to Rear Admiral William T. Benson, chief of the naval operations, and ranking officer of the navy during the war. This was done by President Wilson. The president is required to pass on all awards.

There have been published the names of 267 enlisted men and 873 officers for the navy cross, 121 officers and 13 enlisted men for the distinguished service medal, and 8 officers and 5 enlisted men for the medal of honor.

Daniels referred the awards recommended by Admiral Sims back to the board and it O. K.'d the recommendations for medals and crosses that have been published. He denied that he had given Sims the orders not to let the British pull the wool over his eyes. Regarding his brother-in-law getting a D. S. M. he showed that the board of awards O. K.'d such honors for all commanders who lost ships and showed their dauntless spirit.

TEACH

Three Lawrence seniors, Misses Esther Graef of Appleton, Marjorie Newton of Waupun, and Grace Haylett of Evansville, have accepted positions in the Gwinnett Mich., high school for next year. Superintendent
L. W. Stewart was in the city yesterday and after interviews with him
the young women signed their contracts.

Miss Graef will teach in the mathematics department, Miss Newton in the commercial department, and Miss Haylett will have charge of public speaking and teach in the English department.

Rex Mitchell of Wittenberg, has accepted a position in River Falls Normal and will leave next month to take up his work which will include teaching economics and having charge of public speaking. Mr.
Mitchell completed his college course at the close of the first semester but has remained here to take part in the debate work. He is a member of the negative team.

These four seniors are the first of the class to receive positions, with the exception of those who left before graduating. It is expected from now on that there will be a steady demand for graduates and positions will be rapidly supplied. The majority of the senior class is planning to go into the profession of teaching, altho the percentage is smaller than in former years.

Southern Mothers Have Found a Way to Treat Children's Croup and Colds Without Internal Dosing

ALL mothers everywhere know that children's stomachs are delicate and their digestions easily disturbed, and therefore they should be given as little internal dosing as possible. Yet croup and colds come often and certainly cannot be neglected.

A North Carolina Druggist Solves the Problem

Thanks to Lunsford Richardson, a druggist in Greensboro, N. C., this problem has been solved, and Southern mothers have been given a method of treating cold troubles externally. Mr.
Richardson discovered a salve that would vaporize by the body heat when applied over throat and chest. These vapors, inhaled with each breath, carried the medication through the air passages to the lungs, at the same time the salve was absorbed thru and stimulated the skin, attracting the blood to the surface and thus aiding the vapors inhaled to relieve the trouble. This preparation
Mr. Richardson called Vick's VapoRub.

Vicks contains no harmful drugs,
just the old-fashioned, time-tested
remedies—Menthol, Camphor, Thymol, Eucalyptus, Turpentine, etc.—combined in a new-fashioned way.

The Use of Vicks Has Steadily Increased

Starting with the customers of Mr.
Richardson's retail drug store, the sale of this external treatment has grown, county by county, state by state, until now Vicks can be found in almost any drug store in all sections of the United States.

Mothers who once use Vicks always keep a bottle on hand thereafter. It is so easily applied, so quick in its effects, and, best of all, can be used as often
and as freely as desired, without fear of harmful results.

Now Over 17 Million Jars Are Used Yearly

The best evidence of the value of Vicks is the increasing number of families who, each year, are converted to the use of this real "Little Bodyguard in the Home."

The number of jars used annually
for the last few years is:

1910.....	347,748 Jars
1911.....	523,152 Jars
1912.....	1,027,068 Jars
1913.....	1,357,590 Jars
1914.....	1,462,330 Jars
1915.....	2,418,213 Jars
1916.....	4,302,764 Jars
1917.....	6,799,511 Jars
1918.....	17,377,408 Jars

DIRECTIONS FOR THE USE OF VICKS

Vapors Important.—For these troubles a large part of the value of Vicks lies in its vaporizing qualities. So whenever Vicks is applied over the throat and chest, care should be taken to leave the clothing loose around the neck and the bed clothes arranged in the form of a funnel, so that the vapors arising may be freely inhaled.

Hot Wet Cloths.—In cases of deep chest colds, severe sore throat or incipient pneumonia, hot, wet towels should be used over the throat and chest to open the pores of the skin before applying Vicks.

For Head Colds, Asthma, Catarrh, Hay Fever.—Vicks can be melted in a spoon and the vapors inhaled, or a little should be applied up the nostrils and sniffed up the head.

For Spasmodic Croup, Children's Colds.—
Rub Vicks over the throat and chest until the difficult breathing is relieved, then spread on thickly and cover with a hot flannel cloth. An application at bed time usually prevents a night attack of croup.
Vicks is particularly recommended for children's colds since it is externally applied, and can, therefore, be used often and freely without disturbing the youngsters' delicate digestions.

For Deep Chest Colds, Sore Throat, Tonsillitis, Bronchitis, Coughs—or any affection of the respiratory organs where there is tightness or soreness, Vicks should be applied over the throat and chest—
if necessary, first using hot wet cloths and rubbed in well until the skin is red;
then spread on thickly and covered with one or two thicknesses of hot flannel cloths.
If the cough is annoying, a small piece
the size of a pea can be swallowed every few hours.

Minor Ailments
In addition to its use for Cold Troubles,
Vicks has been found excellent as a salve,
liniment or plaster for troubles such as Bites, Burns, Itchings, Soreness, Sunburn.

PREPARATION FOR ENTRANCE IN COLLEGE FRAT HARD ON PLEDGES

Saturday shall see the end of the painful state under which Lawrence pledges have been laboring this week and last.

It all began with the good grades their profs saw fit to give them for the second semester. Sororities and fraternities encourage and demand a good semester average before they will initiate, but in order to prevent any strain on the husbands of their so-called pledges because of their scholastic brilliance, they are put under orders as the immediate preliminary to initiation.

"Under orders" extends over a period of seven or ten days before initiation. And those days, and nights, mostly nightmares, have all the charms and delights that ingenious actives can devise and provide. The result is a cross between military discipline, domestic tyranny, plus social subservience.

Doing real manual and mental labor, such as painting woodwork, delivering packages, house cleaning, washing dishes, making beds, is but a small part. Actives usually happen to have a strong sense of humor, at least a state of mind which makes them think so, whence the ideas that have made the life of Lawrence pledges for the past week or so a painful comedy.

Nightly visits to the cemetery to search among ghostly tombstones for the remaining half of a specified epithet, carrying eggs and bricks as daily companions, wearing shrieking neckties, forbidden to shave, denied all intercourse with the fair sex are some of the joys that have fallen to the lot of the masculine pledges.

To the feminine ones, the little niceties of life mean even more and when elaborate coiffures are tabooed jewelry displaced by safety pins.

umbrellas made an essential of the toilet, all conversation forced to a whisper, even "hello" to one's beloved denied, the spirit of even the most precocious and flip must sink to a state of step-on-me meekness. When this state has arrived, initiation follows. And after that, decorated with the jeweled insignia, delight in life and living returns once more.

Oil From Cooked Rocks
There are two sources from which oil may be obtained, one from the underground lakes found chiefly in Russia and America, and the other from a rock called shale, which is saturated with oil like a sponge with water. In Scotland several million gallons of oil have been obtained from shale for many years past.

Shale mining is similar to coal mining, it being soft and flaky. It is put into big cooking vessels and cooked until it gives off the oil in the form of a vapor, which is condensed and purified, resulting in the ordinary paraffin oil.

The longest mile is the Norwegian, which is 12,182 yards.

SMALL ATTENDANCE AT HEARING TO FIX GRADES OF CABBAGE

GROWERS ARE TOLD WHAT MARKETING COMMISSION PROPOSES TO USE AS A STANDARD

B. B. Jones, L. G. Foster and Miss Anita Rhodes, chief stenographer of the Wisconsin division of markets which was created by the last legislature, held a hearing at the courthouse Thursday afternoon on the proposed standardization of grades of cabbage. About fifteen growers were present, the small attendance being due to the condition of the roads.

The division of markets has proposed two grades to be known as No. 1 and No. 2 and the hearing was held for the purpose of getting an expression of growers who appeared to be in favor of one commercial grade with a definite definition of terms.

Grade No. 1 consists of round or oval shaped heads of cabbage which are sound, hard, compactly formed, neatly trimmed and are neither seeders, split nor withered. They are to be practically free from damage caused by disease, worms, mechanical or other means. At the time of loading the lot should be free of heads showing soft butts or other visible indications of the stony soft roots. Not to exceed five per cent by weight of any lot shall consist of heads weighing less than one and one-half pounds each, and not to exceed ten per cent by weight of any lot shall consist of heads over ten inches in greatest diameter, except that when large No. 1 is specifically stated there shall be no maximum limit as regards size of head.

In order to allow for variations incident to commercial handling, not to exceed five per cent by weight of any lot may be below the foregoing requirements.

Grade No. 2 consists of cabbage which in any lot may not meet the requirements of Grade No. 1, but which at time of loading is practically free from damage caused by decay or other injuries of defects rendering the cabbage unsuitable for human consumption.

Neatly trimmed means that the butt stubs are cut within one-half inch of the head and not more than three loose wrapper leaves are left surrounding the head, and even these should be removed if shredded by worms or discolored by any means.

Practically free from damage means that the appearance shall not be injured to an extent readily apparent upon casual examination, and that any damage from the causes mentioned is confined to the outer leaves and may be removed by trimming not more than three leaves.

The division of markets is holding a series of hearings throughout the state. The hearing at Corliss Wednesday was attended by nearly one hundred growers. The hearing today will be at River Falls and early next week hearings will be held at Chippewa Falls and Eau Claire.

The standardization of grades will go into effect six months after their adoption, which will probably be early next month. L. G. Foster, who is assistant director of the commission, is a former Lawrence college student, having graduated with the class of 1912. He visited the college before leaving for the northern part of the state. Both Brokaw hall and Lawrence memorial chapel have been erected since his last visit to the institution.

FATHER DUFFY PAYS TRIBUTE TO BRAVE MEN OF COMPANY A

FAMOUS RAINBOW DIVISION
CHAPLAIN TELLS OF HEROISM OF APPLETON MEN
IN HIS BOOK

In a book just issued by Chaplain Francis P. Duffy, 165th Infantry, 42nd Division, warm tribute is paid to the Wisconsin soldiers and especially to officers and men of Company A of this city. He calls his book, "Father Duffy's Story." He was one of the bravest and most admired chaplains in service with the boys in France, and won a warm place in the hearts of the Company A men. Many stories are told of his heroism. The book he has prepared relates his experiences which are right from the heart of the battle, where the chaplain spent most of his time. The following paragraph will be of interest to Appleton people.

"That day the Badgers showed the fighting qualities of their totem. Several of their guns were put out of action at the outset of the fight, and practically all of them one by one before the battle was over. In each case, Captain Graef, Lieutenant Arens and the other officers, together with the surviving gunners, set themselves calmly to work repairing the machines. Corporal Elmer J. Reider fought his gun alone when the rest of the crew was put out of action, and when his gun met the same fate he went back through a heavy barrage and brought up a fresh one. Privates William Brockman and Walter Melchior also distinguished themselves amongst the brave, the former at the cost of his life. There were many others like Melchior, who, when their gun was made useless, snatched rifles and grenades of the fallen infantrymen and jumped into the fight. As specialists, they were too valuable to be used up this way and an order had to be issued to restrain them. Sergeant Ned Roene, who knows a good soldier when he sees one, said to me: 'Father, after this I will stand at attention and salute whenever I hear the word Wisconsin.'"

In India names are likely to change as a result of conversion to Christianity. For instance, Mr. Nosepricked becomes Mr. Servant of Jesus; Mr. Beggar, Mr. Child of the Church, and Mrs. She Devil, Mrs. Happiness.

FEBRUARY Overcoat Clearance Sale

In the face of a rapidly rising market, we've held our prices at the original low figures because all our coats were contracted for many months ago at the lower prices then prevailing.

But today these same Coats cost more at wholesale than we've been selling them for. Yet notwithstanding, we've made substantial reductions from our regular prices in order to dispose of hundreds of fine coats that should have been performing their intended duty long since had they not been eight to ten weeks late in reaching us.

If you can use one of these Coats, either now or in the near future, don't let the expectation of lower prices next year deter you, for overcoats are certainly going to cost more next winter than they did this.

80 YEARS OLD—FIT AS A FIDDLE

"I had a bad case of stomach and bowel trouble that four doctors could not help. Suffered all kinds of pain, was filled with gas and constipated for years. I was advised to use May's Wonderful Remedy. Since taking a course of it four years ago my trouble has disappeared and have felt like a young man. Although 80 years old, I feel fit as a fiddle." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. adv.

ALL KINDS OF YANKS ARE BASKING IN THE SUNSHINE OF CUBA

TOURISTS RANGE FROM PROFLIGATE SPENDERS TO PLAIN MEN SEEKING THIRST SOLACE

(By Lee J. Smith.)
Havana—Many types of Americans are soaking in the sunshine, and other things, in Havana.

There are the party, smartly-clad spenders, who pay $15 each for rooms in third-rate hotels without demur, and make glad the hearts of book-makers at the track.

There is a goodly run of everyday Americans, of the kind one sees leaning over the edge of the Grand Canyon, being photographed at Niagara Falls, eating hot dogs at Coney and filling up the bleachers at ball games. There are middle-western farmers here with their wives, looking a bit lost and lonesome after a life-time of hard work. They gaze at the noble height of a royal palm, waving its green plumes against a sky of white and blue. And I suspect that a pine tree laden with snow would look better to them.

Then there is the somewhat pitiful and entirely offensive American who has come here at the beckoning of Bacchus.

Many of them arrived with a thirst out of all proportion to their capital. They come with the innocent assumption that there are plenty of jobs here for convivial Yankees. Swiftly they exhaust their resources, and then haunt the highways and byways, wondering where the next drink is coming from.

Havana has more booze to the square yard than any city in the world, according to students and travelers who have specialized in likker.

On every street corner, and sprinkled numerously between corners, are the open-faced barrooms to lure the feet of wayfarers. Screens and swinging doors are absent.

The breweries and ice plants must be working overtime and the most seductive of beverages, from plain beer to cocktails concocted of rare spirits and delectable fruit juices, are to be had everywhere at any hour.

Yet the few cases of intoxication to be observed are one and all Americans of the type which gets drunk everywhere and takes to wood alcohol when nothing else is within reach.

American whiskies survive, especially in the American bars, but tourists are usually eager to experiment with the various forms of rum and mixed drinks. Pineapple juice, in toasting beakers, is the basis of many of the popular drinks.

The prices of drink are not exorbitant. They compare favorably with the pre-war schedule in the states. Beer is 10 cents a copy and 2.75 means nothing to the Cuban brewer. A pineapple gin fizz, nearly a foot tall, releases into Cuban circulation 25 cents of American cash.

FEAR MORE "STOCK REPORT" SUICIDES

New York—What police fear will not be the last suicide as the result of small investors being caught by recent drops in Wall Street stocks was the suicide of Mrs. Clara Ellison Page at the Vanderbilt Hotel. Police found on investigation that Mrs. Page has spent most of her time watching stock reports. Newsboys said she awaited feverishly the Wall Street editions of the newspapers and a Wall Street journal was found at her side.

KIMBERLY-CLARK CO. TO BUILD MILL AT NIAGARA FALLS

STEPHEN R. STILP TRANSFERRED FROM KIMBERLY TO EASTERN PLANT—PLAN EXPANSIONS

Stephen R. Stilp, for many years superintendent of the Kimberly-Clark company mill at Kimberly, has been transferred to Niagara Falls where he will have charge of construction work on a new mill that is to be erected by the company. He will eventually become manager of the eastern mill.

Arrangements for his successor at Kimberly have not been completed, it was said. The Kimberly mill is the largest which the company owns and the superintendency there involves many large responsibilities.

Ground for the mill at Niagara Falls is to be broken at once and construction work will be started as soon as possible.

The mill will be equipped with one paper machine capable of turning out a sheet 196 inches wide. Book paper will be manufactured exclusively. The capacity will be approximately 50 tons a day. A ground wood mill will be constructed in connection.

Capital stock of the Kimberly-Clark company was increased from $3,000,000 to $5,000,000 within the last few weeks. Expansion planned by the company is the reason given for this big increase in capitalization.

PICK MILWAUKEE MAN AS PLUMBING EXAMINER

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Madison, Wis.—Henry J. Prieser, Milwaukee, was named yesterday as member of the state committee of plumbing examiners by the state board of health, to succeed Herman E. Heine, resigned. He represents the journeymen plumbers on the committee, while Frank J. Smith represents the master plumbers and Frank R. King the state board of health. The new member is a practical journeyman plumber of more than 30 years' experience and was strongly endorsed.

The board today announced forthcoming examinations for the licensing of master and journeyman plumbers. They will be held simultaneously on Feb. 24 in Madison, at the university service building, and in Milwaukee at the school of trades, 331 Virginia street. The Madison examination will be conducted by Frank R. King and Henry J. Prieser, and the Milwaukee examination by Frank J. Smith and Robert E. Haselkus. Applications have been filed by 17 master and 21 journeyman candidates.

Oh Baby
When the double dozen members of the famed Marcus Peaches romp out in "Oh Baby" at the Appleton Theatre on Wednesday, Feb. 25, those mathematically inclined may readily see where $25,000.00 has been expended. It cost A. B. Marcus, the producer, an average of over a thousand dollars a head—or five hundred dollars a leg if you must be fat.

celtious—for each girl in the "Oh Baby" chorus.

First there is the expense of finding the girl who will measure up to the Marcus standard of pulchritude. In time many of the country's most beautiful girls find their way to artists' studios. Mr. Marcus has a standing offer of $500 for any young woman who is sufficiently beautiful to be numbered among the Peaches. The coin is paid as soon as her beauty is vouched on. This means that artists often receive the prize while the girl may later prove to be impossible as a dancer. Then the five hundred is a dead loss.

No small item is the education in song and dance which each beautiful novice must undergo. Mr. Marcus maintains a school of dancing in Boston.

The average life of the chorus girl is four months. Not that the lithe miss contract the dread "flu" from the scantiness of their stage attire. Far be it from such, but the boys just can't help marrying 'em off. Three chapmen try to prevent the young women from meeting susceptible youths—but Cupid is a chap who won't be denied. There isn't a chance for a Marcus girl to grow old in the service. They don't even wait long enough to get the annual bonus provided by Mr. Marcus for those who remain an entire season. When you see "Oh Baby" you won't blame the boys either.

DECLINE IN NUMBER OF CONTAGIOUS CASES REPORTED IN STATE

REDUCTION IN NUMBER OF REPORTS MAY BE DUE TO LIVENESS OF HEALTH OFFICERS, HOWEVER

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Madison, Wis.—As may be expected influenza occupies the most prominent position in the weekly summary of communicable diseases issued by the state board of health. During the week ended Feb. 14, a total of 10,310 cases of influenza were reported in the state. While this number may seem large it is believed that it really represents but a fraction of the cases which actually occurred. It is now known that many cases in rural districts were not reported because the local health officers were themselves suffering from the prevailing malady.

During the previous influenza epidemic it was noticed that the communicable diseases ordinarily encountered during the winter months were apparently reduced in number. This condition has maintained to some extent during the present epidemic. It is believed, however, that in the general confusion accompanying an influenza epidemic many of the other communicable diseases were unrecognized or at least not reported.

According to the weekly summary the most prevalent affections other than influenza were measles, smallpox, scarlet fever and whooping cough. These diseases are preeminently examples of contact infection, in which care should be taken to prevent the sick from coming in contact with the well.

Physicians and local health officers can do much towards preventing the spread of these and other communicable diseases by enforcing the rules and regulations of the state board of health, says that body in commenting on the summary. Teachers and parents, it is added, can also aid to a great extent in preventing the spread of these maladies by excluding from school children who are manifestly or apparently suffering from forms of infectious diseases.

The summary of reported cases follows: Cerebro-spinal meningitis, 5; chickenpox, 87; diphtheria, 30; erysipelas, 4; influenza, 10,310; measles, 55; infantile paralysis, 1; scarlet fever, 107; smallpox, 100; tuberculosis, 18; typhoid fever, 4; whooping cough, 97; total, 11,227.

READING DOESN'T WANT TO BE AMBASSADOR TO U. S.

JOHN O'DONNELL GAINS 20 POUNDS

Owe His Ability to Work Every Day To Tanlac, Declares Milwaukee Man.

"I have not only gained twenty pounds in weight since I started taking Tanlac, but I doubt if I would be here today if it hadn't been for what Tanlac has done for me," said John O'Donnell, 388 Warren avenue, Milwaukee, Wis., recently.

"Yes, sir, I owe my present good health and ability to work every day to the remarkable benefits I have received from Tanlac," he continued. "For this is the first winter in seven years I have not had to quit work on account of the wretched condition of my health. When I started taking Tanlac my appetite was so poor I had to just force down every mouthful and the little I did manage to eat did not seem to do me any good, so I lost weight until I was so weak I could hardly drag one foot after the other. After every meal I would bloat up with gas, have sharp, shooting pains in my chest and hot, sour water would come up in my mouth. Often I had such awful dizzy spells I would have to hold on to something to keep from falling. I also suffered from rheumatism in my legs and shoulders, and my legs would get so stiff at times I could scarcely walk and just had to drag myself about, and they would sometimes become numb and the muscles just seemed to draw up in knots. My shoulders at times troubled me so, I couldn't raise my hands above my head. I had such awful pains in my back that when I stooped over I felt like I was coming in two and it was all I could do to straighten up again. I was extremely nervous and was so restless I would just roll from one side of the bed to the other for hours and would get up in the morning feeling worse than when I went to bed."

"My wife was always after me to try Tanlac, so finally I had her get me a bottle and I started taking it. Well, sir, I began to get better right off and I continued taking it until now I feel just like a new man. I have a good appetite and everything I eat agrees with me, the rheumatism has left me entirely. I sleep well at night and never become dizzy any more. In fact, I am completely rid of all my troubles and never miss a day from work. I am glad to say a good word for Tanlac and know it will help any one who takes it."

Tanlac is sold in Appleton by John E. Voigt and by leading druggists in every town.

Yellow Mustard For Rheumatism

A good hot mustard plaster or poultice is pretty sure to overcome most rheumatic pains and even sciatica and gout, but it's a mussy affair and generally blisters.

OPPOSITION OF MILLERS MAY DEFEAT GRONNA BILL

By United Press Lensed Wire
Washington—Since the senate agriculture committee voted a favorable report on the Gronna bill, to abolish the U. S. Grain Corporation so much opposition has developed from bankers, millers and grain dealers that passage of the bill is not expected, committee members said today.

Members, however, are confident the measure meets the approval of the rank and file of farmers and declare that the chief opposition comes from dealers who have large stocks of wheat on hand and might suffer losses should the government's guaranteed price be made, ineffective thru abolition of the grain corporation.

KIMBERLY-CLARK EMPLOYEES ADOPT MILL COUNCIL PLAN

he held the first Saturday of August and the first Saturday of February of each year. Notice of nominations and elections will be posted three days in advance of the date.

Only employees who have been in the service of the company continuously for one year immediately prior to the election and who are American citizens or have declared their intention to become citizens are eligible to nomination and election. They must be 21 years of age. There will be no discrimination because of sex, race, political or religious affiliation or membership in labor or any other organization. Absolute independence of action is guaranteed by the company which agrees that no representative of the employees shall be discriminated against because of any action taken by him in good faith in his representative capacity. In case an employee feels he is being discriminated against he may appeal to the president of the company and if his decision is not satisfactory he may have the question submitted to arbitration.

Any employee's representative may be recalled if a majority of the workers whom he represents so desire. A recall election will be held upon a petition of not less than one third of the employees in the voting division which is dissatisfied with the representative. This election is to be held by secret ballot and if a majority of votes are in favor of recalling him the representative's term immediately expires and new nominations and elections for unexpired term are in order.

The head of the safety and service department of the company or a representative appointed by him shall preside at all meetings of the mill council but will not have a vote. Councils, however, will elect vice chairmen who shall preside at meetings of the workers' council in the absence of the regular chairman and if this vice chairman is a representative of the employees or the management he shall retain his vote.

The company will provide meeting places for the councils and they shall also be given permission to visit any part of the plant in order to gain first hand information concerning the subject under discussion. All employees attending meetings of the mill council at its request will receive pay from the company for all time they are necessarily and actually absent from their work on this account.

The general council consists of representatives of mill councils in the mills concerned, elected by the workers' council and an equal number appointed by the management. The proportion of elected representatives is as follows: Neenah, 2; Appleton, 2; Kimberly, 3; Niagara, 1. The president or someone designated by him shall preside as chairman but will not have a vote. The general council is to meet within ten days after the president calls it into session.

Deputy representatives may be elected by the workers to assist the regular representatives to carry on their work but their powers may be limited by the mill council. Deputies may be permitted to vote in the absence of the regular representative if the council so desires.

Representatives of the management will be announced immediately after the election of employees' representatives.

Employees desiring to bring matters to the attention of the council may do so by presenting them to the secretary either in person or through their representatives. The secretary's first duty shall be to find out if the matter has been brought to the attention of the superintendent and if it has not to see that it is done at once. Any group of employees or single employee will have an opportunity of being heard by the council. Any group may appoint not more than three from its number to act as spokesmen. Both workers' and company representatives have the privilege of retiring from the meetings to discuss matters in privacy.

Employers and company representatives shall vote separately and a majority vote of either unit shall be regarded as the vote of the entire unit. When the mill council reaches an agreement its recommendations are submitted to the superintendent for execution. The superintendent, however, may refer the matter to the president of the company who may order its execution or refer the matter to the general council or submit it to arbitration or take such other action as is provided for in the plan.

"and I cannot say what the success of it will be."

"I can't say that I know who is back of the movement," E. L. Williams, city clerk stated when asked if he knew who is sponsoring the campaign.

All I can say is that the petitions were circulated and brought to my office and approved. I do not mix in matters of this kind at all, and in my opinion a government's worth or lack of worth is determined by the people who administer it. No matter what is adopted, if the men who run it are not capable, it will be a failure."

When asked what he knew about it, O. P. Schlafer said he had been wondering himself who wanted the new form of government. "All I know about it is that a petition was brought around to me for my signature," he stated.

"I am afraid the election will go by default, mostly because people don't know much about the form of government proposed. They should have been educated to its worth. It appears to me to be a worthy cause, because it will give us the same features that any large corporation has in its management, direct responsibility, quick action on public matters and men who devote their whole time to it. Men who come together only twice a month are not in close enough touch with the city's affairs to really do them justice. It would be too bad to have it go by default just because it had not been pushed."

John Conway, when approached said, "It would be too bad to let the matter go by default. We must come to it sooner or later, and might as well see it through now."

In a meeting held about two weeks ago, the Trades and Labor Council passed resolutions opposing the managerial form because it appeared to lack the representative principle. While this puts the matter officially on record adversely it does not seem to represent the feelings of all the laboring class. A workman who belongs to one of the unions expressed his views about as follows:

"I bought a house in Appleton about two years ago, and have it partly paid for. This year with the interest and taxes I had to pay, the house costs me on an average $35 a month for those two items alone. I could rent the same house for about $20 or $25 a month, and with a family of six, I would be better off if I did not have his financial burden on my hands in times like these. I think the overhead of the city ought to be reduced and a change of government probably will do it."

Other casual arguments have been heard that are of more than passing interest. One of them related to the commission form of government formerly in vogue here. With the law as amended, the city was doing well under the change, one man contended. The move to overthrow it was merely to get rid of the men and not the system, it was stated. This man and others would be willing to go back to the system that Appleton tried and found practical.

The whole question as far as it has been urged seems to hinge upon the power of the council over the city manager, the possible loss of representation, the ability to secure the right man and the question of what the new form could supply that was not found in the old. Little seems to be said about the claims that the managerial form takes the city administration out of politics.

RACINE FILES PROTEST ON RAIL HEARING

Racine—The city of Racine by telegraph Wednesday filed a protest with the state railroad commission at Madison against the public hearing in the matter of street railway conditions in Racine. The city contends that a complete hearing was held Jan. 28 and all facts relative to conditions were ascertained. On Feb. 4, it is claimed that the city railway company had certain employees circulate petitions among residents of Racine asking the railroad commission to reopen the hearing on the matter of the installation of the Birney type of street car. It is held that the interest of the company and not in the interest of the patrons or citizens of Racine at large.

STATE NEWS CAMELS GET CANDIDATE PLEDGED FOR WET PLANK

Milwaukee—Through the strenuous efforts on the part of the newly organized Order of Camels, officials say that one candidate pledged for a wet plank in the Democratic platform has been procured. The Camels at Superior were holding their initiation ceremonies last Friday when 350 new members were admitted to the lodge. At the same time the eleventh congressional district convention was held. A strong fight developed on the wet and dry issue and the Camels by their united forces with the wet advocates, succeeded in nominating John A. Cadigan of Superior, with the understanding that he pledge himself to vote for a wet plank at the San Francisco national convention of the Democratic party.

SPRING IS CLOSE AT HAND SAYS PROPHET

Eu Claire—Edward Rittinger of Chippewa Falls, whose reputation for truth and veracity stands unquestioned, is authority for the prediction that spring is close at hand. As basis for his prophecy he calls attention to the fact that on the 10th of February, early at night, he saw a flock of mallard ducks, numbering 40 to 60, flying northward following the course of the Chippewa river. Nature cannot fool wild ducks, says Rittinger, and he is confident that spring is in the immediate offing.

RACINE MAY TRY THE ONE-MAN STREET CAR

Madison—Racine may be one of the next cities to try the one-man car. A hearing will be given on this subject at Racine on Friday by Commissioner Allen. At first the common council of Racine was opposed to the one man car plan. A petition has been circulated recently among business men and it is probable that as the result of this move that a trial of the one man car plan will be made at Racine. The railroad commission said on Wednesday that six or eight cities of the state had one-man cars in operation on their lines.

FORTY-FIVE MILWAUKEE MEN FACE DEPORTATION

Milwaukee—Forty-five of the fifty-two Milwaukee men arrested Jan. 2 in a raid by deputy department of justice agents during a nation-wide campaign against communist agitation face immediate deportation. This announcement is made by Eugene Kessler, immigrant inspector, who is conducting hearings here on the men held under deportation warrants.

Testimony at the hearings, according to Inspector Kessler, has caused recommendations for immediate deportation of those held, excepting in a few cases. It is expected that the hearings will be concluded next week. "There will only be a few whose warrants I will ask to have cancelled," said Inspector Kessler. "Without exception, these men have large families. They have promised faithfully never again to have anything to do with the Reds."

PIONEER CITIZEN OF OSHKOSH DIES

Oshkosh—James G. Clark, president of the Oshkosh Overall company, one of the pioneer residents of the city, and probably its oldest business man, passed away at a local hospital at the age of 84 years. Heart trouble was the cause. He came here in 1856 and was long in the dry goods business. In 1855 he was one of the organizers of what is now the Oshkosh Overall company doing a business of about two millions of dollars a year. He was for long periods on the road for the company as salesman and was one of the oldest traveling salesmen in the state, making trips up to a few months ago, when his health began to fail.

FARMER BREAKS VECK FROM FALLING TREE

La Crosse, Wis.—With his spinal cord completely severed and a piece of his vertebra removed by an operation, John Sobotta, 45, a farmer living near Arcadia eats two or three hearty meals each day at a local hospital, although attending physicians say he has small chance to recover. Sobotta was struck by a falling tree, the force of the impact breaking his neck. He has a wife and six children.

Damage by forest fires in the eastern section of the country, and in the Mississippi Valley, is far above that in the west.

HONORS HOOVER AS "CIVILIAN HERO"

MEDAL OF HONOR IS CONFERRED ON HERBERT HOOVER BY CHARLES E. HUGHES

New York.—Declaring that the achievements of Herbert Hoover, in fighting starvation among the European peoples had "established a prestige for the American name abroad, which none of the failure or mistakes of diplomacy can obscure," Charles E. Hughes presented the Civic Forum's medal of honor to the former food controller at a meeting in Carnegie hall Wednesday night. Plainly agitated, and confused by the eulogies of the five speakers who hailed him as the "civilian hero of the war," Mr. Hoover made a short speech of acceptance, in which he said he would accept the medal on one condition—recognition that it was a tribute to "that great army of volunteer American workers and givers, of which I were merely an instrument."

In this short speech he made no reference to the fact that he was considered a presidential possibility, and that he had been urged to declare his affiliation with both the democratic and republican parties. The only passage that deviated from formal thanks and praise of his associates in this relief work was this:

"We are in danger that selfishness and partisanship will overcome our sense of service to the greatest number."

Mr. Hughes, in making the presentation, said that, as America had no military or naval honors or government recognition to bestow on Mr. Hoover, "we are seeking to give expression to the thought of the people of America, and without reference to class, without regard to party or to politics, we are gathered in the public interest to honor a great civilian hero of the world war."

CANADIAN VETERANS GO BACK TO THE LAND

GOVERNMENT PROVIDES LARGE SUM TO ENABLE SOLDIERS TO GET WELL STARTED

By George Hambleton (Special to Post-Crescent)
Ottawa—Canada has loaned $56,000,000 to enable nearly 15,000 of her returned soldiers to settle on the land.

Roughly, 13 per cent of repatriated members of the Canadian Expeditionary Force have applied for benefits under the soldiers' land settlement act. Of these applicants—numbering 45,576, according to the latest returns—34,273 have had their qualification certificates approved. Having secured his qualification certificate, a man looks for a desirable location.

When he has found it, he asks for his loan. With so many qualification certificates approved, it will not be long therefore before the sum of $56,000,000, already loaned, will be considerably augmented. Actual soldier settlers under the scheme now number 14,900.

The Soldier Settlement Board (which is charged with administration of the soldier settlement act) exercises a number of important functions to enable the soldier to become a farmer.

A sum of $4500 is set aside as the maximum which may be borrowed from the government for the purchase of land, on which a cash payment of 10 per cent is required. For the purchase of stock and equipment, a further $2,000 is allotted and $1,000 is assigned as the maximum loan for buildings and other permanent improvements. The maximum loan per individual is therefore $7,500.

In addition to the money loans, 1,600,000 acres of free lands had been distributed among returned soldiers up to the end of last month. The lands are Dominion lands, situated in the four western provinces. Each ex-serviceman is entitled to 320 acres, as compared with the 160 acres granted to civilians.

With the exception of loans for livestock and equipment, all loans bear 5 per cent interest and run for 25 years. In the case of the $2,000 loan for livestock and equipment, repayments are made in four equal payments commencing not later than three years from the date of advance. No interest charges are made during the first two years on loans for livestock and equipment.

Loans are not granted until the prospective farmer is able to show that he is capable of owning and operating a farm. To those without such qualifications, courses in agriculture are offered. Men in training on a training farm receive free board and allowance for dependents.

Be sure to get real Resinol

If you want to get rid of eczema, pimples, or other distressing skin eruption, you will accept no "substitute" for Resinol. Preparations similar in name or appearance are not just the same as Resinol. Although a few unscrupulous dealers may offer them as or for Resinol, they are often crudely made, of little healing power, and some may even be dangerous to use. Buy in the original blue package.

Resinol is never sold in bulk

A Message To the American Public

From J. OGDEN ARMOUR

President, Armour and Company

For some time we have had a thought with which we have wanted to acquaint the American public, and it concerns the future of Armour and Company.

From a small beginning sixty years ago, serving a few people locally and under the management of the Armour family, we have expanded to a point where we now serve many millions of people all over the world.

We have come to the view that a wide distribution of ownership of any corporation serving a large number of people is of advantage not only in maintaining the human relation between employer and employee but between those from whom it buys and those to whom it sells.

Realizing that a business of the character of ours is so necessary to the public, we believe they should be accorded the privilege of participating in its ownership. As a beginning, two years ago we offered our debentures, which were exchangeable into preferred stock. As a result, we now have eleven thousand preferred stockholders.

With the thought in mind of further public participation we have decided to segregate our leather properties. The announcement of the offering of preferred and common stock of the Armour Leather Company will be made in this paper tomorrow.
